THE WEATHER.

Toledo, O., Sept. 14, 1892.

The storm of Tuesday moved towards the northeast and is central in northern Ontario, and has caused over one inch of rain in the past 24 hours at the following stations: Toledo, Sandusky, Detroit, Port Huron, Parry Sound, Toronto, Alepena, and Rockliffe. Rain has been quite general in the lower lake region, the middle Atlantic states and in the south, and no rain is reported throughout the west during the past 24 hours. High winds are prevailing on Lake Erie, especially on the lower portion. The temperature has fallen in the lower lake region; west the temperature has risen, except in South Dakota, where a temperature of freezing is reported this morning, and frost is reported in Nebraska, and a killing frost in western Minnesota.

Local forecast for Toledo and vicinity for 36 hours—Generally fair, with a possible light shower; cooler to-day, followed by warmer weather tomorrow.

Kept up for years—the offer that's made by the proprietors of Doctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's addressed to you, if you have Catarrh. It's a reward of $500, if they can't cure you, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing—an offer that's made in good faith by responsible men.

Think what it means! Absolute confidence in their Remedy, or they couldn't afford to take the risk. A long record of perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases—or they couldn't have faith in it. It means no more catarrh—or $500. If you fail to be cured, you won't fail to be paid.

But perhaps you won't believe it. Then there's another reason for trying it. Show that you can't be cured, and you'll get $500. It's a plain business offer. The makers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay you that amount if they can't cure you. They know that they can—you think that they can't. If they're wrong, you get the cash. If you're wrong, you're rid of catarrh.

THE WAR IS OVER

Quarantine Established on Fire Island.

The Restraining Order Has Been Overruled.

Normannia's Passengers Glad to Get Ashore.

They Are Now Quartered at the Surf Hotel.

The Owner of the Island Talks About the Action of the People in Refusing to Let the Patients Land.

New York, Sept. 14.—Councellor Sherman, who obtained a writ of habeas corpus for the relief of his clients, the passengers of the steamship Normannia, who are now at Fire Island, appeared in the general term of the supreme court this morning for the purpose of arguing the case. Lawyer Dykman appeared for Dr. Jenkins, the quarantine officer and asked for time to make return for the writ. Judge Barnard said that the return could be made on Saturday and he would hear the arguments on Monday.

Babylon, Sept. 14.—The situation in Babylon at an early hour this morning was unchanged from that of last evening. Col. Austin is determined to stay here with his troops until he hears from his superior officers.

Sheriff Darling, of Suffolk county, is anxious that the militia be sent home as he considers that affairs at Fire Island and the villages on the great south bay are now in a tranquil and peaceful condition.

The storm continues with unabated fury. Rain has been falling all night and the scenes this morning were of a desolate and bleak character. Col. Austin and his regiment, the Thirteenth, of Brooklyn, are on duty notwithstanding Sheriff Darling's advice that the men be sent back to the armory by the first train.

Col. Austin says he will wait here until Dr. Jenkins returns from Fire Island, when he will have a consultation with him and decide on what policy to pursue. He intimated to a United Press reporter at 6 o'clock that according to his knowledge of the situation at that hour he thought some of the men would be sent back to Brooklyn this afternoon.

A company or two with the men from the naval reserve will perhaps be needed to keep order at Fire Island and they may be detailed for duty there. The men of the Thirteenth are not very anxious to go there and take chances of being quarantined.

They had a rough experience during the Buffalo strike, where they were stationed in the most dangerous positions and some of the boys grumbled a little that they should be selected on this occasion. The total number of officers and men on duty of the Thirteenth regiment numbers 425.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The general term of the supreme court of Kings county has vacated the temporary injunction obtained by the board of health of the town of Islip restraining Gov. Flower from using Fire Island as a quarantine station. Judges Pratt and Dykeman voted to vacate, Judge Barnard dissenting. The Normannia's cabin passengers have been landed.

London, Sept. 14.—A laborer named McLeister is dead of cholera at Calder, in Lanarkshire, Scotland, and it is feared that the cause of death is Asiatic cholera, as the district had recently been infested by Russians and Poles.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 14—The official figures for Saturday in Russia place the total number of new cases of cholera in all Russia at 2,810 and the deaths at 1,326. Compared with the returns for Friday these figures show a decrease of 2,844 new cases and 1,184 deaths.

Hamburg, Sept. 14.—Two hundred and thirty-seven new cases of cholera were reported yesterday. The deaths numbered only 97. The reports published in foreign papers that there have been 60 fatal cases of the disease in the jail are entirely unfounded. There has not been a single case of cholera among the prisoners.

The amount of money that has been lost because of the epedemic will probably never be approximately estimated. Every branch of business has suffered. A number of manufacturers have been compelled to dismiss their workmen, having no orders and therefore nothing for them to do. Hundreds of men are loitering about the ports, finding it impossible to procure work of any kind.

At many of the villages along the Elbe the fishermen have ceased work because they could not sell their catches. The fisherwomen and dealers in vegetables and fruits here are also in a bad way. They are with almost nothing to eat, having been deprived of their sales.

Several fatal cases of cholera have occurred at the Friedsburg lunatic asylum.

The senate has accepted the offer of the Altona Water company to furnish Hamburg with an ample supply of pure water. This will tend to check the ravages of the disease, for although every effort has been made to supply the people with boiled water, many of them will persist in using unboiled water as a beverage.

New York, Sept. 14.—The steamship companies are paying a heavy penalty for their carelessness with their steerage passengers as may be seen from the fact that the North German Lloyd steamship Spree left this port yesterday for Bremen with only 10 cabin and five second cabin passengers. She carried no steerage passengers. The Hamburg-American liner Columbia will sail for Southampton to-day without a single passenger, cabin or steerage and also without a single ounce of freight.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 14.—The government has taken further steps to guard against the introduction of cholera into the country. A proclamation was issued yesterday ordering that a quarantine of 20 days be observed for vessels arriving at any port in Canada.

New York, Sept. 14.—Arrived—Steamer Majestic from Liverpool in quarantine 8:30 a. m.; State of Nevada from Glasgow, passed Sandy Hook at 8:40.

Fire Island, N. Y., Sept. 14.—A heavy southeast storm set in last night which continued throughout the night. Nothing has been seen of the steamboat Pegasus, having on board the troops and naval reserves which started for this place from quarantine yesterday. It would be dangerous for her to attempt to enter the inlet should she come down during this storm.

Quarantine, Sept. 14.—The following is Dr. Byron's report, dated 9:44 p. m., September 13:

"Swinburne Island—One death, Scaraki Sarisan, aged 27. Admitted September 9, died September 13. This is the death reported yesterday caused by gastritis and alcoholism. Nine transferred to Hoffman island, two transferred to the quarantine ward, one subject transferred to the sick ward. The doctor was unable to visit the ships yesterday afternoon or evening on account of the gale.

The White Star steamer Majestic which arrived in quarantine this morning from Liverpool brings 507 cabin and no steerage passengers. She reports all well on board.

London, Sept. 14.—A dispatch to the London Times from Hamburg says: "The highest figures of the epidemic in Hamburg show that daily one person in a thousand of the population is afflicted, and that over one-half of those attacked recover. It is not too much to say that healthy stomachs are cholera proof. No one need catch the disease unless he or she likes."

Amsterdam, Sept. 14.—There was one death from cholera yesterday in Maaslauis, South Holland. A case of cholera is reported at Elburg, a town on the Zuyder Zee.

CHOLERA IN NEW YORK.

The Board of Health Reports a Case of the Dread Disease.

Bulletin—New York, Sept. 14.—2 p. m. —The board of health reports a case of Asiatic cholera in this city but will not state where.

2:45 p. m.—There have been four deaths from Asiatic cholera in this within the past few days. This fact just announced by health board.

TO PROHIBIT IMMIGRATION,

Detroit's Mayor Asks Authority to Request President Harrison to Take Such Action.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14.—Mayor Pingree asked the council for authority to request President Harrison to prohibit immigration, even from Canada, at least until congress meets.

He had telegraphed to the mayors of several cities requesting them to join him in such a petition to the president.

The mayors of Savannah, Cleveland, Toledo, Duluth, Milwaukee, Port Huron, Bay City, Sault Ste. Marie, and Jackson, Mich., replied favorably. Mayor Washburn, of Chicago, replied that he would refer the matter to the city and state boards of health. Mayor Bishop, of Buffalo, and Mayor Stuart, of Grand Rapids, Mich., declined. J. Cremont, mayor of Quebec, and the mayors of Hamilton and Guelph, Ont., replied evasively.

A resolution was offered in the council to have the president requested to exclude foreigners 90 days, providing he has the power. It was adopted by a close vote after a hot battle in which the matter was denounced as silly.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Berlin, Sept. 14.—Prince Hermann, of Scharburg-Lippe, was thrown from his horse, while riding near Linz, yesterday, and sustained a fracture of the skull. His condition is critical.

THE EMPIRE STATE.

Republicans Are Gathering in Buffalo.

A Great Time is on the Program.

Every Energy will be [illegible] to Get Out Every Republican Vote in the Commonwealth.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Every train from the east and west to-day brought in delegates to the republican national league of clubs convention that is scheduled to open to-morrow.

Among the earliest on the ground today were President J. S. Clarkson, of the national league, and Secretary A. B. Humphrey. Mr. Clarkson said: "Mr. Humphrey's assurances from clubs and states are sure indications of the success of the meeting. But in addition to that we find here to-day a large advance guard from far off states such as Texas, Kansas, California and Nebraska. It will be a surprisingly big meeting."

Mr. Humphrey immediately opened headquarters and his register of states and clubs, and by noon a large number had registered. The program for the various meetings will not be completed until the local and general committees and the state clubs have their meeting this afternoon.

So far as can be ascertained the convention will be opened to-morrow at 10 o'clock, President Clarkson making the opening address. The report of the secretary will be read and following that the usual committees will be appointed. The next order of business will be the reports of state leagues as to growth and work in their territories and these will be one of the most important features of the convention.

In the evening there will be a mass meeting in charge of the local committee and although the arrangements are not entirely completed the speakers will include Gov. McKinley, J. Sloat Fassett, Hon. Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. J. Ellen Foster and Gov. Brown, of Rhode Island.

On Friday the league will consider the resolutions to be promulgated by the platform committee and will elect officers for the ensuing year.

Friday afternoon the league of college clubs will have its own meeting.

President James Francis Burke will make an address and after some routine business is transacted Governor McKinley will address the assemblage.

Friday morning Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, president of the Woman's association, will call to order a meeting of women and Hon. Whitelaw Reid is expected to make an address.

Friday night there is to be a parade, reviewed by the notables present.

The delay in arranging definitely the program is due to the death of the mother of Tracy Becker, who is chairman of the local reception committee. State Committeeman John R. Scatchard is now acting in his place.

The proceedings of the convention are likely to be quite lengthy because of the many prominent speakers present, all of whom will be asked to make a few remarks.

Despite Mr. Clarkson's enthusiastic prediction of a large meeting it is evident as the day wears on that there is to be nothing like the attendance that was predicted prior to the meeting.

The hotel people are not overcrowded and have plenty of room for as many more. From the western and southern states single delegates are arriving instead of delegations from each club and it is from these states that the falling off is noted.

New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Illinois have so far showed up well. Texas and California come next with fairly large representations.

Pittsburg sent a whole marching club as well as their delegates.

A heavy rain that set in this morning serves to make it very unpleasant for the delegates now here and to dampen what little enthusiasm was present.

At general headquarters it was announced at noon that there were a large number of clubs present.

Up to noon representatives had reported from these states: California, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Virginia, Connecticut, Illinois, Rhode Island, District of Columbia, Nebraska, Kansas, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin, Iowa, Arizona, Arkansas, New York, Texas and Colorado.

IN A HIGH MIX.

Republican Congressional Convention Fails to Agree

On a Candidate for Ninth District Honors,

And the Battle of the Ballots Continues—George Ketcham May Score as a Dark Horse—Notes on the Event.

"Will Ashley be nominated?" a Bee asked Mr. W. W. Touville, this morning.

"He will—the way they catch monkeys on the Orinocco," was the significant reply.

To those who fail to catch the full meaning of the simile, it may not be out of place to state that on the Orinocco river monkeys are caught in this wise:

Earthen jars half filled with nuts are placed near the haunts of the "monk." The mouth of the jar is just large enough to admit the open paw. The wily little animal is passionately fond of nuts and he grasps a handful, but when he attempts to withdraw his paw he finds the exit too small to admit of passage and instead of letting go of his booty he holds on and screams for dear life. The screams attract his pursuers and he is captured in the act.

It may be so with Ashley. He may not let go until it is everlastingly too late.

It was 10:10 when the chairman rapped for order this morning, and all but a few straggling delegates had taken their places.

Chairman Howard urged the convention to agree on some man and push the business through in short order.

Herman Baumbach created some amusement by making a motion, in good faith, evidently, that J. M. Ashley, having the highest vote, be nominated by acclamation.

Herman was about laughed off his feet, and Lucas county got down to the old grind of calling her long roll of delegates.

Sylvania and Oregon were expected to show a change of front, but it did not come. It may come later.

The first ballot this morning resulted as follows:

	Ashley.	Hamilton.	Griffin.	Brigham.	Lincoln.
Lucas	57	28	13	—	—
Wood	—	—	—	—	53
Fulton	—	—	—	27	—
Ottawa	3	4	3	3	3
Total	60	32	16	30	56

It will be seen that there has been no material change from last night.

Vince Emmick got one vote on this ballot, and was obliged to hand around the cigars.

Lucas county again began the roll-call. For 20 times the list of 99 delegates had now been called, and yet the end seemed as far away as ever.

Those who ought to know something whereof they speak say that Fulton may be expected to make a break some time to-day.

Twentieth ballot—Ashley, 60 1-2; Hamilton, 32 3-4; Griffin, 15 3-4; Brigham, 30; Lincoln, 56.

Twenty-first ballot—Ashley, 61 1-2; Hamilton, 33 1-2; Griffin, 14; Brigham, 30; Lincoln, 56.

Twenty-second ballot—Ashley, 59; Hamilton, 33 1-4; Griffin, 14 3-4; Brigham, 30; Lincoln, 56; Emmick, 2.

Twenty-third ballot—Ashley, 60; Hamilton, 32 1-2; Griffin, 16 1-2; Brigham, 30, Lincoln, 56.

Twenty-fourth ballot—Ashley, 61; Hamilton, 32 1-2; Griffin, 14 1-2; Brigham, 30; Lincoln, 56.

Twenty-fifth ballot—Ashley, 59 1-2; Hamilton, 32 1-4; Griffin, 15 1-4; Brigham, 30; Lincoln, 56; Romeis, 2.

While the twenty-sixth ballot was being taken Judge Nearing, of Wood, moved that a recess until 2 o'clock be taken.

It was not seconded and the roll call continued in the Lucas county delegation.

Twenty-second ballot—Ashley, 59; Hamil-

Twenty-sixth ballot—Ashley, 60 1-2; Hamilton, 32 1-4; Griffin, 13 3-4; Brigham, 30; Lincoln, 56; J. W. Greene, 3.

Twenty-seventh ballot—Ashley, 60 1-2; Hamilton, 32 1-4; Griffin, 16 3-4; Brigham, 30; Lincoln, 56.

The convention, on motion of Frank H. Tanner, adjourned until 2 p. m.

Afternoon Session.

Chairman Howard was prompt in calling the convention to order this afternoon. The outside delegates were not present in large numbers but then they don't seem to count much, any way, and Lucas county continues to wrangle and call the roll as if there was no vote but her own in the convention.

There was no special change on the twenty-eighth ballot. The outside is solid and the deadlock remains unbroken.

Twenty-eighth ballot—Ashley, 58 3-4; Hamilton, 36 3-4; Griffin, 13 1-2; Lincoln, 56; Brigham, 30.

It will be seen from the above that there is no material change.

Tillotson in the Fight.

The man who converted Presque Isle from a wilderness into a thing of beauty and made Hotel Victory a joy forever out of wind—practically wind, is on hand.

The irrepressible and invincible J. K. Tillotson is taking a hand in the fight. J. K. has a dark horse and he may make his appearance some time this afternoon. His name is Geo. H. Ketcham.

The selection is not a bad one by any means, as Tillotson is just the man to make a winning fight for George.

Neg Cochran is also doing some quiet work for the same cause.

George is popular and has the great essential—money.

The outside delegates are getting tired and some of them have gone home and left alternates to attend to business. This afternoon a great many will be ready for a break.

The Ashley men say that the Hamiltonions propose going over to Lincoln, but there is nothing in the report.

George Ketcham is as much in it now as is Ashley.

Yesterday's Balloting.

The first ballot was a good deal of a surprise all around. Griffin developed more strength than was anticipated, and Ashley was quite a long way from his claim of 72.

Ashley made a gain of less than one vote on the second ballot and this came from Hamilton. In the third Kent dropped another vote and Griffin three, while Ashley gained four.

After the first vote Jim Southard wanted to know if the majority of the county delegates present had not the power to vote the proxy of absentees. He made a motion to this effect, and he was opposed by W. H. A. Read and Col. Everett, who maintained the motion was irregular.

Jim was after the votes of three absent county delegates. Lucas, on every ballot, called the roll of delegates and this occupied at least half an hour.

After a lengthy discussion Southard's motion was put and lost, so that the absent votes were divided pro rata between Hamilton, Ashley and Griffin.

On the fourth vote Ashley lost a vote which Hamilton gained. Griffin's vote remained unchanged.

In the fifth Ashley dropped from 61 to 59 while Hamilton gained four points.

In the sixth Ashley regained a vote and Hamilton dropped to 31.

The last vote taken before recess for supper stood:

Ashley	60 1-14
Hamilton	31 11-14
Griffin	17 2-14
Lincoln	56

Evening Session.

Chairman Howard called the evening session to order at 7:45. The result of the Seventh ballot was awaited with considerable anxiety for it was understood that the Ashleyites had got considerable solid work in during the recess.

Southard and Tucker had been treating the outsiders right royally, but just with what success would remain unknown until after the next ballot.

Wood county remained as immovable as a rock, and at a conference during recess decided that as far as Wood was concerned, Lucas would be left to fight it out.

It was evident early in the evening that Lucas would not show much if any change and the outsiders sat down to take it easy.

The seventh developed the fact that Ashley had been at work. His vote was 64, and a fraction, to 25 for Hamilton and 15 for Griffin.

It was believed now that a break was coming, but the eigth ballot did not show it to ny great extent. Delegates weer willing to bet that it would take 50 ballots or more to decide the contest.

On the eighth Ashley took a flop from 64 2-10 to 60 2-10, while Hamilton showed an increase of two votes. The announcement was received with applause.

After the eighth, and while Lucas was calling her roll, the other delegates took matters very easy and decided to simply sit and wait.

Ottawa gave her one extra vote to Hamilton and resolved to do so until the end. Fulton was expected to break, but no break came. So the long hours moved along with nothing to change the monotony, except when a straggler dropped down to Hanner's and had to be hunted up to record his vote.

Adjourned at Midnight.

It lacked but a few minutes of midnight when, on an oft-repeated motion to adjourn, the convention took a recess until 9 o'clock this morning.

There was no material change in the situation, as will be seen from the first and last ballot taken given herewith:

First Ballot.

Ashley—Fulton, —; Lucas, 55.1; Ottawa, 3; Wood, —; total, 58 1-10.

Hamilton—Fulton, —; Lucas, 28.4; Ottawa, 4; Wood, —; total, 32 4-10.

Griffin—Fulton, —; Lucas, 15.5; Ottawa, 3; Wood, —; total, 18 1-2.

Brigham—Fulton, 27; Lucas, —; Ottawa, 3; Wood, —; total, 30.

Lincoln—Fulton, —; Lucas, —; Ottawa, 3; Wood, 53; total, 56.

Nineteenth Ballot.

Ashley—Fulton, —; Lucas, 61 2-10; Ottawa, 3 3-15; Wood, —; total, 64.

Hamilton—Fulton, —; Lucas, 25 5-10; Ottawa, 8 8-15; Wood, —; total, 34.

Griffin—Fulton, —; Lucas, 12 3-10; Ottawa, 3 3-15; Wood, —; total, 15.

Lincoln—Fulton, —; Lucas, —; Ottawa, 1 1-15; Wood, 53; total, 54.

Brigham—Fulton, 27; Lucas, —; Ottawa, —; Wood, —; total, 27.

This shows a total gain of six votes for Ashley, but many times during the day a similar gain was shown but the champion would inevitably drop down to the neighborhood of 60.

On the sixteenth ballot Ottawa broke away for the time being and surprised Hamilton's friends by giving him 9 and a fraction vote.

Leaving out the fractions the vote then stood: Ashley, 58; Hamilton, 37; Griffin, 14; Brigham, 28; Lincoln, 54.

To show that Ashley has a reserve that can suppress a sudden stampede he drew six votes from Hamilton on the seventeenth. Ashley's friends have been doing some tall missionary work in Oregon township, and it is understood that the sudden flop to Ashley from the Hamilton ranks came from Oregon.

During the latter part of the night the names of L. S. Baumgardner, Jacob Romeis and "Doc" Smith were before the convention as dark horses.

Romeis got two votes and Baumgardner and Smith got one each.

At midnight it looked as if Ashley, if he managed to get in the work laid out for the balance of the night, would find his path less thorny in the morning.

Notes.

Judge Sala is an interested spectator.

A number of democrats have enjoyed the fun.

What's the matter with "Doc" Smith as the nominee?

"Blades of Grass" is the password into the Ashley camp.

L. S. Baumgardner is being groomed as a dark horse.

Morris Math is doing some quiet hustling for Hamilton.

Oregon delegates deny having gone back on Hamilton.

The candidates are all on the ground watching their fences.

J. W. Greene received three votes on the twenty-sixth ballot.

Col. Squire's master hand is sadly missed in the convention.

Each member of the Lucas delegation is watching the other fellows.

"Blades of Grass" has supplanted "Long Green" as a sporting term.

Sylvania is now accused of having done the double-shuffle last night.

Doville has ceased to cut any conspicuous figure in the convention.

John Kumler fights as of yore. He is in the scrimmage until ended.

It is said that Jim Southard slept last night with a doubtful delegate.

Judge Nearing said this morning that Wood was still solid for Lincoln.

Hal D. Landon is doing the convention for the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

Tillotson will reopen Hotel Victory if the convention adjourns to Put-in-Bay.

Col. Bonner looks on and laughs. He is not a delegate, and is probably glad of it.

Kent Hamilton appears the happiest of all the candidates. He may not feel that way.

Read's speech was a rattler. He is leading a forlorn hope, but he is doing it bravely.

Chairman Howard makes an excellent presiding officer, and he is a fine old gentleman.

Wood county delegates are making arrangements to remain here all week if necessary.

State Auditor Poe would be willing to make the race, if 98 of the delegates agreed he should.

Candidates on the county ticket are steering clear of the factional quarrel in the Lucas crowd.

Jake Romeis says there is no fear of his nomination. He has no money to spend with the boys.

Lucas county delegates, with their bickerings, are causing the other counties to express considerable disgust.

This is splendid democratic weather, which probably accounts for the failure of the republicans to agree.

Considerable pressure was brought to bear on the Seventh last night, but the Seventh is true to Hamilton.

Any number of dark horses have been suggested, but an agreement had not been reached up to the noon recess.

Col. Waldorf, Postmaster Brown and Railroad Commissioner Kirkby, are on deck, and want Ashley to succeed.

There are a score of District messengers in service, scooting after delegates who go out to see a man between ballots.

Fulton county will drop Col. Brigham as soon as an opportunity is afforded, especially if the delegates can give Wood county a crack.

Capt. Jim Luckey, in a short talk last evening, wanted the convention to understand that he was for Hamilton first, last and all the time.

Frank Baird is the busiest man in the convention. He is all wrapped up in Ashley, and insists the ex-governor will prove the winner.

If the Ashleyites had only taken the fruits of their victory won in the primaries, and sealed the same at the county convention this dead-lock would not have existed.

The principal objection made to Kent Hamilton is that he would not make the race against Col. Haynes two years ago. Kent was a wise man, as the result developed.

Health Officer Fisher may be bothered about the cholera, but it does not appear to give him much concern, as he is sticking pretty close to the stage at Memorial hall as chairman of the Lucas delegation.

Steve Bolles is losing his voice announcing the fruitless ballots. Steve loaded up the newspaper boys with pencils, paper, etc., and has been elected in return as chairman of the press gang, with M. P. Murphy, of the Bee, as vice.

Jim Ashley, jr., says there are only two politicians among his father's force. These are Jim Southard and W. H. Tucker. From the manner in which a minority euchred these two worthies on Saturday and yesterday, they cannot be considered as very great politicians, either.

CHARITIES-CORRECTIONS

Annual Meeting of the Ohio Society.

Splendid Address by Ex-President Hayes.

Good People Who Look After Those of Their Race Who are Less Fortunate.

Cleveland, O, Sept. 14.—The opening session of the second annual meeting of the Ohio State Conference of Charities and Correction was held last evening in Association hall in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Gen. M. D. Leggett called the meeting to order and introduced Rev. George R. Leavitt, D. D., pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, who offered the opening prayer. A beautiful hymn, "It is the Lord's Own Way," was sung by the Arion quartet, and the Mayor Rose delivered the address of welcome.

General Leggett introduced General R. B. Hayes, who responded to the address of welcome. He was received with a storm of applause, and it was some time before he could begin his address. General Hayes began by regretting that Governor McKinley was prevented from being present. In the course of his address he said: "Let me by way of suggestion give some of the head lines showing a part of the topics that belong to the general subject we are considering. The blind and their well being from the cradle to the grave. The deaf-mutes and their training and education. Orphans and all neglected children. The feeble-minded youth. The insane and the epileptic. The poor who are unable to work. The sick and the wounded. The drunkards. The criminals of every grade—the young, the reclaimable, the hardened—from the tramp to the fiend who would burn a city or murder a family. Men—and saddest of all, women, too—who wish to lead honest lives, who are seeking work and needing work and cannot find it. This is but a partial list of the victims of misfortune, of vice, and of crime, found in the very bosom of all civilized society. How can they be dealt with so economically, so humanely, and so wisely as to satisfy the consciences and hearts of good men and women?

"I am speaking only of public charitable and correctional institutions, and of the legislative and executive control under which their affairs are administered. Their laws, their rules, their methods, in brief their entire management depends upon the intelligence, fidelity, discretion, and humanity of public officers who directly or indirectly are chosen at popular elections in cities, counties and states, which elections in the main are merely ratifications of the nominations made by political conventions and partisan caucuses. I would not on this occasion or on any occasion sanction by my example the indiscriminate condemnation of public officers and of party government which is often heard in this country and Great Britain. Our officials from the lowest to the highest, may be taken as fairly representative of the fitness for self-government of the communities by which they are elected."

General Hayes said he was convinced that no other great country was ever better governed than America, yet officials were not always chosen for their fitness, natural or acquired, for their responsibilities. The result was that interests which vitally concerned many families and individuals, and the general welfare and progress of society were often neglected or badly administered. "What then is to be done?" he continued. "The answer is before us.

This intelligent assemblage, this state organization of men and women, who, without compensation, are willing to give their time and their efforts to the study, the investigation and the improvement of our public, charitable and penal systems and institutions is at once a pledge and an instrumentality in the right direction. The intelligent self-interest of public of[illegible] found in Ohio to-day, will lead them to accept and appreciate the friendly suggestions and the disinterested aid of this organization to the end that abuses may be reformed and beneficent changes adopted."

[illegible] that the dependent, [illegible] classes supported and cared for by the people of Ohio numbers 50,000, and the cost of their maintenance was probably $4,000,000 annually.

When General Hayes had concluded the Arion quartet sang "Oh, My America." The annual address was then delivered by Dr. Elroy M. Avery, of this city, the president of the conference.

MRS. HARRISON.

Her Condition is Reported Serious.

Consultation of Doctors at Loon Lake.

They Refuse to Make Any Extended Statement and the President is Very Anxious.

Loon Lake House, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Drs. Gardiner, Dougherty and Trideau held a consultation at the president's cottage this forenoon on the condition of Mrs. Harrison and at its conclusion issued the following bulletin:

"Primary disease or tuberculosis of right side, associated with nervous prostration. Recent complication, subacute pleurisy with rapid effusion of water in the right chest, necessitating two tappings with some relief. Present condition critical on account of tendency to reproduction of fluid; removal to Washington at present impossible; prognostication as to immediate future uncertain."

The physicians refuse to make any more extended statement. The president is very anxious.

MILITARY TELEGRAPHERS

They Are Holding a Convention in Omaha.

Their Services Have Never Been Rewarded.

A Worthy Organization that Has Almost Dropped Out of Memory.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 14.—The inauguration of the twelfth reunion of the United States military telegraph corps at their headquarters in the Bee building, to-day, was marked with little ceremony or publicity, and the absence of public interest in, or even knowledge of the existence of the organization and its work during the war would seem to go far towards verifying the saying that republics are ungrateful.

For the group of veterans who responded to the roll when President W. R. Plum called the convention to order at 2 o'clock this afternoon, are the survivors of a company of operators whose faithful, but unrewarded service at the telegraph instrument guided many a general to victory and honor. They established a military telegraphic service that has since been copied by every civilized nation in the world.

The system was not the product of any one mind, but was evolved to meet the necessities of the hour by as brave and intelligent a band of patriots as any as served under the stars and stripes in the war of the rebellion.

And yet at the end of the war they were paid off and dismissed like so many teamsters, without an honorable discharge, and without being recognized as a branch of the military service.

The government has granted them no more recognition than it accords to-day laborers in its employ.

For the last eight years their cause has been presented at every session of congress.

They do not ask for pensions, nor do they want them. The members of the corps, however, are not discouraged, and will continue their efforts until they meet with success, and much of the work of the present gathering will be devoted to this end.

A congressional committee was appointed to-day consisting of A. G. Safford of Washington, W. J. Dealy of New York, J. H. Emerisk of New York, E. Rosewater of Omaha, and Dr. J. E. O'Brien of Scranton, Pa.

The Old Time Telegraphers' association also held its annual meeting this morning and the two organizations will participate in a banquet and other entertainments that have been arranged by the local committee. From this city the delegates will proceed in a body to Denver, where they will be received and entertained by the local operators.

THE GRAND ARMY

Preparing to Receive the War Veterans.

Everything Will be Done to Please the Eye and the Heart of the Old Soldier.

Washington, Sept. 14.—A rain storm, which from the steady and persistent manner in which the water came down and the gusty nature of the wind seemed to indicate the presenece of the equinoctial a week or so in advance of the usual time, set in yesterday and threatens to delay somewhat the preparations, especially in the way of decorations, for the national encampment of the G. A. R. next week.

But the rain is heartily welcomed, for it breaks a drought of several weeks' duration and gives promise of the only thing needed to give perfect satisfaction and comfort to the visiting veterans and their thousands of friends.

Dusty ways and sun-dried sod which were painfully apparent would have added their discomforts to the graver one, amounting to a positive danger, of an insufficient water supply.

The condition of the water system was of serious concern to the authorities, but the rain to-day and what seems in prospect the next few days removes all fear of danger from that source, besides renewing and beautifying the face of nature and man's improvement thereon in the way of walks, drives, flowerbeds, and lawns.

So far as can be determined now, nothing will be lacking next week to serve the convenience and pleasure of visitors to the national capital. Evidences are apparent on all sides of preparations being made for the great encampment. The hotels are already beginning to show signs of activity; stands to view the procession line Pennsylvania avenue, and on many houses along the line of the great parade bunting and flags already kiss the breezes.

The work of decorating the public buildings has also begun and a detachment of soldiers at work on the state, war and navy department buildings are watched with interest. Col. Ernst has begun decorating the executive mansion, which, he says, will be done in an artistic and novel manner.

The main building of the census bureau is among the first to show its completed design to the public. The decorations hang from the street to the roof. Between the large windows in the second story, forming the center piece of the design, is a likeness of President Lincoln, done in crayon. The committee on street decorations is making good headway. Over all cross streets over the avenue long lines of flags and banners have been stretched, and in the center of each collection of flags is a shield bearing the name of a state. F street, one of the principal business thoroughfares of the city, presents a gay appearance, all the large establishments have put forth their energies, and numerous original and unique designs are displayed. Newspaper row has also caught the spirit, and along the front of the buildings occupied by the correspondents there is a uniform system of decoration, with the Occidental building as a radiating point.

Those in charge of the cavalry movements at the encampment are very desirous that General Pleasanton, the great cavalry commander, shall be in their column during the parade and entrance to the encampment grounds on the "White Lot."

General Pleasanton has been unwell for months past in this city and is unable to ride horseback, but the cavalry veterans intend, if possible, to take him from his house in a chair and place him in a carriage at the head of the column. A fact not generally known to this generation is that the father of General Pleasanto saved the state department records during the war of 1812 when the British invaded the capital. An invitation was received at the navy department to-day from the committee on reunions at the encampment inviting the officers of the army and marine corps to be present at the dedication of Grand Army Place, which takes place on the "White Lot" on Monday next.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

Sixteen Men Reported to Have Been Killed.

A Choctaw Official Tells of the Affairs of His Turbulent People.

Dennison, Tex., Sept. 14.—A prominent official of the Choctaw nation last night said: "I have authentic news that sixteen men have been assassinated. The killing was done by a mob of 28 Indians. They started to kill Green McCurtin, our national treasurer, and a very influential man. He may be dead now. I look for killing by the wholesale within the next 24 or 48 hours at the latest.

Governor Jones is on the ground with a small force of militia, but will have a sufficient force of men in a few hours to either arrest or kill the assassins. All of the present trouble grows out of the recent election.

'The Jackson party is crying 'fraud,' and the newspapers have worked them up to a state of frenzy. All of the election boxes are sealed and cannot be tampered with. They will be opened in the house of representatives when the council convenes in October. Governor Jones is a fine man and if the returns give Jackson a majority the governor will step down and out. The report that Jackson is elected cannot be relied upon for the result is not known. It will require the presence of United States troops to prevent bloodshed."

McAlester, I. T., Sept. 14.—At a conference held here last night, called and arranged by Indian Agent Bennett, to establish peace and preserve tranquility among the Choctaw people, the following persons were present:

Wilson N. Jones, principal chief; Leo E. Bennett, Indian agent; E. N. Wright and W. W. Hompton, of the progressive party; Joe Gardner; A. N. Anderson and Daniel Bell, of the national party, and Charles Laflore, captain of the Indian police of the United States.

The situation was discussed fully. It was unanimously agreed that in order to amicably adjust the present trouble, all armed bodies of men shall immediately disband, and by 12 o'clock noon to-day (Wednesday) all persons who participated in the killing of Joe Heek, Frank Frazel, Elias Colbert and Robert Nelson shall surrender to the constituted authorities of the nation to answer before the courts, and while in custody the prisoners shall be protected from all violence.

The convention agreed to the request made yesterday by Gov. Jones, of Agent Bennett, that the agent be present with Indian police and soldiers at the October meeting of the Choctaw council to see a fair count made of the votes and to insure protection to all concerned. They agreed to submit all differences to the law for settlement and would do all in their power to allay the present excitement and preserve the peace. This agreement was signed by all present and telegrams and messengers on horseback were dispatched at midnight to all portions of the nation in an endeavor to carry out the object of the agreement.

A telegram was received last night by Gov. Jones stating that Sheriff Perry's house, six miles from Hartshorne, was surrounded by 30 armed men in an attempt to take his life. A messenger was dispatched on a fast horse to inform them that peace had been restored, but it is feared that he will reach there too late. If such be the case it will renew hostilities and necessitate the calling out of the troops.

GIGANTIC SWINDLE.

Madame Apparuti Has Been Living High.

New York, Sept. 14.—Report from Paris says: Columns of the French press have been filled for the past month with the accounts of the extraordinary swindles perpetrated by a Madame Apparuti, who, in the course of three or four years, has succeeded in extracting from her dupes nearly three million francs.

In her correspondence she pretended to have collosal dealings with the royal and imperial families of Russia and Greece. Finally, one of her creditors entered a claim against her, upon which she came to Russia, and from St. Petersburg continued to try and keep up the fable. The French courts, nevertheless, gave an order for her arrest, and the necessary formalities for extradition were commenced.

At that time she was staying at a fashionable hotel, where, finding the game was up, Madame Apparuti undressed, drenched herself with petroleum, and set fire to herself.

It was discovered that, before setting light to her night-dress, in order probably to make assurance doubly sure she had cut the veins of the root of her tongue with a pair of scissors. Three days later the Russian authorities informed the French consulate that all was in order for her extradition, and it was only then that the facts of her tragic end became known.

MILITARY QUARREL.

Captain Robinson Has Been Sent to Texas.

St. Louis, Sept. 14.—A sensation in military circles has been created here by the announcement that Captain Robinson of the famous Seventh cavalry, and for months past the assistant quartermaster at Jefferson barracks, had been removed and assigned to duty at San Antonio, Tex. The order is to take effect September 16. No reason is given for the transfer, but it is believed it is the result of a lack of harmony among the military officials at the barracks.

TO BE HELD IN BRUSSELS.

London, Sept. 14.—A report comes from Brussels that the monetary conference will be held in that city in accordance with the wish of the majority of the powers.

WILL BE NO STRIKE.

Reading Affairs Have Been Fixed Up.

Chief Arthur and President McLeod Had no Trouble in Making a Settlement.

Philadelphia, Sept. 14.—There will be no strike on the Reading system. At the conference all matters were amicably adjusted. Twenty-five committeemen with Chief Arthur as their spokesman, conferred with President A. A. McLeod and General Sweigart in the Reading's general offices from 2 o'clock untla,fwa6si lr$ vbil throughout.

When it was explained that Engineer William Schaefer of the P. & R. railroad, who was discharged for belonging to the brotherhood had not signed a contract to renounce labor organizations, President McLeod orderd him reinstated.

Engineers John Bowman and William Grakelm of the same line, however, will not be reinstated for they violated their signed agreement with the company by joining the organization.

President McLeod assured the employes of the leased lines that they would not be disturbed and as the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has not been recognized on the main line for several years, the apprehensions of the leased lines men were soon dispelled.

Membership in the Reading relief association on the leased lines will be optional with the employes and they can join what labor organizations they please. The main line employes, however, must abide by the old rules.

After the conference President McLeod smilingly declared the gathering to have been most satisfactory and described Chief Engineer Arthur as a level-headed man.

"When two sensible and fair-minded men get together," said Mr. McLeod (referring to himself and Mr. Arthur), "they can soon arrive at a satisfactory conclusion. Everything is satisfactorily arranged and there will be no trouble."

Chief Arthur left for his home in Cleveland and the other delegates will also take their departure during the evening. The meeting must have been one of mutual admiration, for after the meeting Chief Arthur said to the newspaper men that Mr. McLeod was one of the most pleasant and level-headed men he had ever met.

A LENGTHY LIST

Of Crime and Cruelty Considered by the Humane Society.

Bills Audited and Reports Received—The Erie Street School in a Terrible Condition.

The regular monthly meeting of the Humane society was held at the Humane office on Adams street last evening, President Brown presiding.

The secretary, Mrs. Brooks, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were duly approved, and presented the bills that were laid over from the last meeting, which were audited.

In the absence of Humane Officer France, who was a delegate to the congressional convention, the monthly report was read by the secretary, Mrs. Brooks. It was a lengthy account of desertions, cruelty and crime, and is the best evidence possible of the need of a humane society in Toledo.

Mr. France said that one of the cruelest cases he had ever been called to witness was that of a poor woman who bore on her body marks as large as his hand of kicks from a heavy boot. Her brutal husband had so kicked her because she refused to give him $5 she had earned, he wishing to donate the sum toward the Boyd funeral, and she thinking 50 cents sufficient.

Another heart-rending case was that of the little 20-months babe whose parents were both arrested for drunkenness, and the babe had to be taken to the police station.

And still another sad story is that of the little baby, totally blind, who is neglected by its mother. It is desired to put the child in a home for the blind.

The report was summed up as follows: Relief furnished, 1; cruelty to children, 12; to wife and family, 7; admonitions, 8; con- [illegible] 1; charges withdrawn by wife, 8; investigations not sustained, 3; arrests for cruelty and neglect of family, 6; homes found, 4; sent to the Good Shepherd home, Cleveland, 1; to Lancaster, 1; abuse to animals, 2; dogs shot, 1; horses, 2; animals laid up, 2; relieved, 4; arrests for abuse to animals, 1; number of children coming under notice of the society during the month, 45.

Complaint was made to the society that the condition of the Erie street school house is terrible, the children are crowded in like animals, and the ventilation is so bad that in some portions of the room the air is poisonous and foul. President Brown thought that this matter did not come under the jurisdiction of the Humane society, but should be looked after by the health officer.

The rain prevented a large attendance at the meeting, but the reports show that the work of the month is most satisfactory and the officials watchful and efficient.

IN COLORADO.

Complicated Action by a Convention.

Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 14.—The democratic convention met here. Thomas J. O'Donnell, of Arapahoe, was chosen temporary chairman. There were contests in Arapahoe and Mesa counties between the Weaver democrats and Clevelandites. The committee on credentials reported in favor of seating the Weaver men. This caused a great uproar, the Cleveland followers strenuously objecting to be ousted. They held a caucus in the corner of the hall and as a result of it they decided to bolt the convention. They then left the hall. The Weaver men indorsed the people's party presidential electors, and adjourned at 1 o'clock this morning, after having authorized the state central committee to nominate a state ticket.

The Cleveland faction reassembled this morning and nominated the following ticket:

Governor—J. H. Mauphin, Fremont county.

Lieutenant-governor—William McMeacham, Arapahoe county.

Attorney-general—W. P. Skelton, Washington county.

Auditor—I. H. Fox, Las Animas county.

Treasurer—S. P. Nolan, Mesa county.

Superintendent of public schools—E. McCoy, Jefferson county.

Regents—Henry Johnson and W. B. Champion.

Presidential electors—James N. Carlisle, Pueblo county; Charles Unfug, Huerfano county; James Schrinn and Ansel Watrous, of Larimer county.

JERSEY REPUBLICANS.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 14.—The republican state convention to nominate a candidate for governor and presidential electors met in Taylor's opera house. The platform approves and indorses the declaration of principles as set forth in the platform adopted by the republican national convention at Minneapolis; repudiates the democratic doctrine as enunciated in the platform of that party that "The federal government has no constitutional power to impose and collect tariff duties, except for the purpose of revenue only"; calls attention to the general prosperity of the country, the decreased prices of manufactured goods, increased value of agricultural products and the earnings of wage earners as shown by statistics collected by democratic officials; indorses the administration of President Harrison, and denounces the passage by the last democratic legislature of a bill to legalize a combination of coal corporations as the result of which the prices of coal have been increased.

John Kean was nominated for governor on the second ballot. Then followed the selection of presidential electors and the convention adjourned.

ARIZONA'S ADVANCEMENT.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The annual report of N. O. Murphy, governor of Arizona territory, says the population of the territory has increased during the last year and now numbers about 70,000. The immigration has been of a most desirable character. The total assessed value of the property of the territory is $27,923,162. The rate of taxation on every $100 is $3.21.

CRONIN CONVICT APPEALS.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—State's Attorney Longenecker was served with formal notice to-day that a motion to enter judgment would be made at the October term of the Illinois supreme court in the case of the dead Cronin convict, Patrick O'Sullivan. This is a move to elicit a decision on O'Sullivan's appeal for a new trial, to settle the question as to court costs being paid out of O'Sullivan's estate. Attorney Donohue to-day announced that Daniel Coghlin's case would probably be appealed at the October term, the preparation of the record having been in progress for some time.

SPORTING NEWS.

Kaiser William is now talking about coming over here to capture the America's cup with his Meteor.

The Meteor, when she was a Scotch yacht and was known as the Thistle, proved an easily snapped up piece of meat for the American yacht Volunteer. Her designer, George L. Watson, was absolutely flabbergasted (don't you know?) that a boat like the Volunteer and a man like Burgess should sail right around him (don't you see?), that it knocked all the grit out of him and made him feel like designing bulkheads in future.

JUDGE MORRIS.

He Will Lead Connecticut Democrats to Victory.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 14.—Chairman Clinton B. Davis of the state central committee called the democratic state convention to order in Allyn hall at 11:10 o'clock.

State Senator David M. Read, of Bridgeport and John P. Murphy escorted Senator Seymour to the chair. Senator Seymour outlined the general prosperity of the country, and then discussed the tariff.

The committee on permanent organization reported for permanent chairman ex-Congressman Robert J. Vance, of New Britain. Judge Morris was nominated for governor by acclamation, Ernest Cady, of Hartford, for lieutenant governor, John J. Phelan for secretary of state, M. H. Sanger for treasurer, and Nicholas Staub for comptroller.

The platform holds that customs taxes should be the chief source of government supply; demands a safe currency, redeemable in gold; protests against an issue of bank bills for circulation unless they are as safely secured as are the National bank bills; condemns the course of the republican party and declares in favor of a constitutional convention.

MORTALLY WOUNDED.

F. W. Ryan Fatally Shot by James Murphy.

Lima, O., Sept. 14.—F. W. Ryan, the town marshal of Herrod, a village east of here, was shot and mortally wounded by James Murphy, who was drunk and resisting arrest. As the marshal was proceeding to lock him up, he drew his revolver and fired twice. The first ball struck Ryan in the arm and broke it. The next one entered his groin and will prove fatal. Murphy fled, but Ryan shot at him and it is believed hit him in the back, but he made his escape. Officers are in pursuit.

David Ryer was brought here from Delphos to-day and lodged in jail, charged with criminal assault upon Mrs. Emily Rosell.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES OF HONOR.

Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—The fifth biennial session of the Ohio Knights and Ladies of Honor has opened here. It will last three days. The election of officers occurs to-morrow. About 10 delegates are present. Grand Protector Mrs. Abbie Farr, of Cleveland, presides, and Grand Secretary Frank Blakesley, of Cleveland, is secretary. Among the Cincinnati people taking a prominent part are: Grand Chaplain George F. Schwaegerle, and Wm. L. Sullivan, jr., of the committee on law; Eugene Steck and Mrs. M. J. Dye, of the credentials committee, and Grand Trustee S. B. Lowenstein.

OHIO TROOPS FOR CHICAGO.

Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—Adjutant General Pocock to-day announced what Ohio troops will go to Chicago on the occasion of the dedication of the Ohio building. Chicago authorities allowed state quarters for 2,000 men. These will be the First regiment of Cincinnati, the Fifth regiment of Cleveland, Eighth of Alliance, Fourteenth of Columbus, the Toledo Cadets, the Cleveland Troop of Cavalry, and companies from the Second and Seventh regiments. All will meet here and leave over the C., H. V. & T. railway on the morning of October 19.

IT IS DEEM.

His Bloated Corpse Found at Hamilton.

Hamilton, O., Sept. 14.—The bloated and decomposed remains of a young man were found in the reservoir.

At 3:30 p. m. Coroner Brown examined the corpse, and it is beyond doubt the body of 'Squire Deem, the young man who attempted to outrage Miss Lizzie Hoel, on the reservoir last Saturday evening. A letter was found on his body addressed: "Dear Squire," and signed "Lona," and was postmarked Eaton, O.

STANDARDS OF MEASUREMENT.

The editor was taught by his governess that three barleycorns measured one inch, and at the mature age of 6 years he determined to test the accuracy of this statement. He had no difficulty in finding the barleycorns, but somehow no three grains that he picked up in the chickens' yard agreed with the formula. He never attempted the more scientific test which is thus described: "The length of a pendulum oscillating in a second in vacuo, at sea level, in the latitude of London is 39.13929 inches, and from a knowledge of this fact the standard of the inch, foot and yard can easily be obtained should the official standards at any time be lost or mislaid." When, in 1834, the "standard" measure was destroyed by fire at the house of parliament an attempt was made to restore it by the pendulum test, but pendulums, like barleycorns, were found not to agree.—From Whittaker's Almanack.

Committed to the Infirmary.

Probate Judge Millard to-day committed M. D. Wylie to the county infirmary, temporarily, on a commitment of insanity. Wylie is the man who jumped into the river a short time ago, and who has been in custody at the police station since. He was sent into probate court, and this morning Judge Millard pronounced him insane. It appears that Wylie was divorced from his wife about ten years ago in Scotland. He came to this country and she married again. His hallucination is that she and her husband are following him from place to place, and persecuting him. He says he left Cincinnati about six months ago; that they came there and he went to Lima, and from Lima to Delphos; from there to Bucyrus; from there to Adrian, and from Adrian to Toledo. He says they have been at the police station since his confinement there, and that they kept taunting him through the bars of his cell.

As he is not a resident of this county Judge Millard has no authority to send him to the asylum, and sent him to the infirmary to be cared for until the authorities at Cincinnati can be informed.

Wont Work With Non-Members.

At the meeting of the Clerks' Mutual Protective union at Elks' hall last evening, six new members were initiated, and the reports of committees on Labor day, and also on the excursion recently given by the union, were received.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. P. C. Hudson for the music furnished by his drum corps for the clerks' parade on Labor day, and the excursion committee reported that the proceeds of the evening of pleasure netted a neat sum.

The early closing movement was discussed, and it was reported that the green cards are becoming numerous, and union men are requested to look for them, and give their patronage to the merchants who are willing to grant the request of the clerks.

A resolution was unanimously adopted to the effect that the members of the C. M. P. U. will not work with clerks who do not keep up their dues, or who are not union men. This rule will be strictly enforced. The attendance at the meeting was large, in spite of the bad weather, and the members were all in good spirits.

The next meeting of the union will be held Tuesday evening, September 26.

BIG TRANSFER BARN

And Stables to be Erected by the Toledo Transfer Company.

The Bee stated a short time ago that the Toledo Transfer company would erect a fine block on Erie street, between Adams and Madison, on a lot purchased a few months ago, adjoining the Colton block.

Captain Dowling, president of the company, went east yesterday for the express purpose of gleaning some ideas relative to the construction and equipment of a first-class barn. He will visit New York, Boston, Buffalo and Philadelphia. The company intends to build and equip the finest livery barn between New York and Chicago.

GETTING EVEN.

The Postoffice People After Heller's Scalp.

The fine Italian hand of Postmaster Brown and Revenue Collector Waldorf was seen in the work of the republican county central committee to-day.

The election of J. W. Kerr, of Monclova, as chairman of the committee is the first nail in Representative Heller's political coffin.

The postoffice people propose getting even with Heller for his treachery to Sherman last fall and Kerr will be the federal candidate against Heller next trip.

Frank Tanner and Prosecutor Wheeler were outvoted and their wrath falls heavy on the head of J. C. Rike, who at the last moment flopped to Kerr.

Even Frank Rickenbaugh, who expected fair treatment at the hands of the postoffice crowd, is hot. He had to be content with the secretaryship.

MAJOR OVERMAN'S CASE.

Hardly Probable That Any Further Action Will be Taken Against Him.

Major Overman's troubles so far as courts or court-martials are concerned, are about ended. District Attorney Brinsmade has made a conscientious effort in pursuance with instructions from the attorney general, to follow up the case alleged against the major, but he found that he was powerless to make any headway after the war department declined to co-operate.

Col. Brinsmade and his assistant, Mr. Cook, have inspected a mass of papers and vouchers, but without the required assistance it was impossible to make head or tail of them. They have about decided to let the whole matter drop.—Cleveland World, 13th.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 3,

R. badge and carry cane. Wear full uniform if you have it.

3. Sleeping berths can still be had by calling at the Pennsylvania ticket office.

5. Take this card with you to Washington for reference.

THE LITTLE ORPHANS

Given a Rousing Benefit at Wheeler's Last Night.

It was feared that the rain would prevent a large attendance at the orphans' entertainment last evening, but a large number of tickets had been sold, the performance had been well advertised, and the charitable people of Toledo are not disposed to allow a little rain to dampen their enthusiasm, hence at an early hour the throngs began to pour in, and when Mr. J. J. Murphy appeared on the stage there was not standing room unoccupied. Mr. Murphy made a brief but pleasing address of welcome, and the program proper then begun, the little ones receiving enthusiastic encores and applause for the perfect manner in which they performed.

Vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. J. P. Bartelle, Miss Melink, and Dr. Effie Obermiller, and they each delighted the vast audience with their superb singing.

Prof. Poulin and Mrs. Monks sang a duet which was well received, and Miss Lillie Clouse gave an instrumental solo. Miss Ullrich and Mrs. Machen were accompanists.

Every number on the program was a gem, and every person in the audience felt well repaid for the effort to be present.

The proceeds will do much to cloth and feed these little ones, to whom the good sisters of St. Vincent's give such tender care.

THE CORONER FINDS

That Abortion Was Preformed and Dr. Mingos is Charged With the Crime.

Coroner Beckwith concluded the inquest in the case of Mary Surles this morning and rendered a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to her death from the results of an abortion performed by Dr. G. W. Mingos and that Henry Surpman was an accessory to the crime. Detective Hall, who has been working the case up, swore out the affidavit, charging Mingos with the crime. The case will come up in police court to-morrow morning.

KERR CAPTURES THE PLUM,

And Frank Rickenbaugh is Elected Secretary.

The republican county central committee met at the republican club rooms at 12 o'clock to-day and organized. There were 16 members present. An informal ballot was taken to select candidates for chairman, which resulted in the choice of Tom Wheeler, Frank H. Tanner, F. W. Rickenbaugh and J. W. Kerr.

A regular ballot was then taken for chairman, which resulted in Kerr receiving six votes, Rickenbaugh eight, Wheeler two and Tanner one, there being no choice.

A motion to adjourn was made and lost, and Wheeler and Tanner withdrew.

On the next ballot Kerr received eight votes, Rickenbaugh seven and Wheeler one.

The third stood tie for the two candidates. It began to look very much Ashley-Hamilton, and another motion to adjourn was put and lost.

The next ballot told the tale, Kerr receiving nine and Rickenbaugh six.

By informal ballot, Rickenbaugh, Lloyd and Young were chosen candidates for secretary. Mr. Rickenbaugh declined to allow his name to be voted upon, but he was elected, and a motion to adjourn carried while he was protesting.

CLOVER LEAF'S ANNUAL MEETING.

Election of Directors—Synopsis of President's Report.

The annual meeting of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City Railroad company was held at the company's office to-day. The stockholders elected the following directors: S. H. Kneeland, J. S. Stout, Randolph F. Purdy, R. G. Ingersoll, Francis L. Russ, W. Howard Gilden, Robert Harris, J. O. Osgood, all of New York; S. R. Callaway, Clarence Brown, M. L. Crowell, of Toledo; F. J. Sawyer, of Buffalo.

The president's report shows the following increase in the earnings for the past five years:

Year ending June 30.	Earnings.	Per cent. increase over preceding year.
1888	$ 502,123 78

Percentage of increase, 1892 over 1888—314 per cent.

The earnings for the fiscal year ending June 30th, were seriously affected by the flood at St. Louis. The yards and track having been submerged for nearly two months.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

Polls Will Open at Four and Close at Eight O'Clock.

The primaries for the election of delegates to Saturday's democratic county convention will be held in the wards and townships to-morrow. In the latter mass caucusses will be called to order at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and in the city votes will be received at the places designated from 4 until 8 o'clock p. m. Two judges and one clerk will be named in each ward, and the names of all democrats voting will be registered by the clerk the same as at the regular election. Returns will be made to Mr. O. A. Browning, chairman of the county committee. Every democrat ought to take an interest in the primaries, and aid in the choice of a representative list of delegates. Voting places are as follows:

Third Ward—Court house.

Fourth Ward—Booth corner Lafayette and Superior streets.

COL. BUNSBY.

How His Profound Philosophy Comes to the Aid and Comfort of McKinleyism.

"I rather like the cheerful philosophy of the Associated Press," said Col. W. A. Taylor, the democratic candidate for secretary of state, to a Bee this morning, "in its heroic attempts to bolster up the tumbling fabric of McKinleyism."

"To what do you refer?"

"The Ellwood meeting yesterday. The A. P. says there were 5,000 people at the meeting and there would have been 20,000 if they had turned out. If you will look at the statement in a non-partisan, unbiased way, you will have to acknowledge that it is true—in fact you will have to admit that there would have been 75,000, if they had been there. Don't know who invented this kind of logic, do you say? Why, the late Col. Jack Bunsby, who was always able to give 'a reason as was a reason.'

"Joe Manley, of Maine, is a close student of Col. Bunsby, too. He telegraphs to Chairman Carter the glorious intelligence that Maine had gone republican by almost 12,000, and that it would have been nearly 24,000 if there had been enough republican votes.

"On the night of the 8th of November Gov. McKinley will address a telegram something like this to President Harrison: "'We would have given you 17,500 plurality in Ohio if we had only cast 35,000 more votes.' Then the president will feel greatly resigned. The Bunsbian philosophy will come like the balm of Gilead."

County Commissioner,

Infirmary Director;

And to select delegates to the Congressional and Judicial conventions.

In the several wards of the City of Toledo primaries will be held, and in the Townships outside of Toledo mass caucuses will be held.

The township caucuses will be held at three o'clock p. m. on Thursday, September 15.

The city ward primaries will be held between the hours of 4 and 8 o'clock p. m. at places to be hereafter designated by the ward committeemen, the announcement of which places will be made in the Bee.

The democrats present at the opening of the polls at the primaries in the several wards will select two judges and one clerk to receive the ballots and record the name of each person voting, and when the polls are closed they will certify the result to the Chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee.

The wards and townships are entitled to one delegate for each 50 votes cast for Gov. Campbell in November, 1891, and one additional delegate for fraction over 25 votes, as follows:

Tom Reed was re-elected, not because his constituents are overwhelmingly in love with him, but because his district is so strongly republican that they couldn't defeat him if they should try.

The man who started a cholera scare in Toledo and telegraphed it all over the country ought to be spanked. There was not the slightest foundation for such a rumor.

Our own blooming Major General Squire, boss of the Ohio league, early became disgusted with Ashley's boodle and Griffin's small vote in convention, and left town. eH is in more congenial company in Buffalo.

It is surmised that the expedition to Venezuela is intended as much to compel England to keep hands off as to enforce respect for American citizens in Caracas. The guns of the white squadron are shotted for business.

If Hill is really placated and shall make an active canvass in New York it proves the assertion that Mr. Cleveland commands the situation and can carry the state if he shall exercise political sagacity, which, in plain English, means set the machine of practical politics at work.

A large number of union printers in New York have organized to protest against the action of Typographical Union, No. 6, in endorsing Whitelaw Reid. These protesting printers say Reid is still antagonistic to organized labor, but is keeping quiet for votes. Such is the general opinion.

Emperor William, of Germany, gave audience to Mr. William Steinway, of New York, on Sunday and discussed the Columbian exposition at length. His Majesty intimated that it is very probable he will make the exposition the occasion of visiting the United States. The youthful sovereign would be given a hearty welcome in Yankee land.

The New York Telegram accuses somebody of pocketing $60,000 out of the cholera distress, in the purchase of the Fire Island hotels. The day before Gov. Flower authorized the purchase the owner offered the property for $150,000. Inside of twenty-four hours he let it go for $210,000, and advance of $60,000. The Telegram is endeavoring to find the go-between who pocketed the big swag at the expense of the state.

There is a defiance of law in the Chinese quarters in California. The Geary law requires every Chinaman to register prior to April, 1893, to be photographed and to be identified by two white witnesses. The "Six Companies," which represents the wealthy class of mongolians in San Francisco, has issued a proclamation forbidding their race to comply with the terms of the law. This means a row, ample notice of which is given and a race conflict or serious consequence may be expected on the coast next spring.

The biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen is in session in Cincinnati. Unfortunately for the order a lot of politicians seek to manipulate its proceedings into an endorsement of Harrison. Just why, nobody but the politicians know. The matter has been introduced but will probably be deferred until the regular proceedings are over when a mass meeting of repulican delegates will adopt the resolutions and send them out as the action of the Brotherhood. We opine there are thousands of locomotive firemen who will resent such unwarranted action. Politics and business do not mix to any great extent and will not in this instance.

THE REPUBLICAN LOSS IN MAINE.

Three states have voted within a fortnight, Arkansas, Vermont and Maine. In Arkansas the democratic majority is the largest of recent years. In Vermont the republican loss is very great. In Maine it is still greater. There is a republican slump of over 10,000 in Maine, a decided manifestation of indifference in Harrison's candidacy. Even Blaine failed to register and lost his vote. "As goes Maine so goes the union" will hardly be shouted with gusto by the republicans this year. Should other states, some of the close ones, follow the example of Vermont and Maine several hitherto republican states will cast their electoral votes for Cleveland. Mr. Harrison will receive no encouragement from the election returns from Maine.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Several candidates before the republican congressional convention think they hold the key to the situation. Ashley thinks his key is golden, and perhaps it is, though his workers have not been able thus far to make a break in the outside mining camps. But they are ready, and there is plenty of boodle in sight, and several old stagers on hand to receive it.

Hamilton is the eminently respectable candidate, and hopes the eternal fitness of things will be understood by the convention before many more ballots are taken.

Griffin wishes it understood that he is boss of the dead lock, but not a dead duck by any manner of means.

Lincoln can hold his own in Wood as long as he desires.

Brigham will stay in the race as long as Brailey and Touville say so, and no longer. It will be well to watch the course of this brace of beautiful birds of ancient plumage. They are the dandy delegates for business, and don't forget it.

Jim Luckey, of Ottawa, is not a candidate and still he is. It is hoped by those very close to him that a penetrating lightning flash may ultimately strike Jimmy.

And there is ex-Congressman Romeis. His name has not been presented, but there are several delegates ready to spring him at the first favorable opportunity.

And last, but most prominent on the stage, is Vincey, our own dear Emmick. He received two whole votes on one ballot and immediately commenced writing his letter of acceptance.

The convention is interesting and somebody will be nominated who is likely to be defeated in November.

THE ST. CLAIR FLATS CANAL.

When the Toronto Empire speaks upon international affairs it is supposed to reflect the opinion of the government, as it was established as an organ and to be the official oracle of the Dominion. Therefore, what it says about the St. Clair Flats Canal is worthy of special attention. The canal was originally located where the "old ship channel" emptied the waters of St. Clair River into St. Clair Lake, and the boundaries between the two countries is supposed to also run in that same old channel. This is the claim of the Empire which it supports with documentary evidence. The Treaty of Ghent, in 1814, placed the boundary line in the old channel, and the Treaty of Washington reaffirmed that location. The Government of Canada, in 1855, appropriated $20,000 to improve the channel, under the supposition that it was in Canadian waters. In 1854 President Pierce vetoed a large appropriation for the improvement of the channel, hence the appropriation on the other side of the border. In 1870 the United States expended $70,000 in the improvement. The Treaty of Ghent was somewhat indefinite in locating the exact line, simply providing in Article 6, that the boundary line should run—

"To the northwest of and near the Island called Isle a la Peche to Lake St. Clair, thence through the middle of said lake, in a direction to enter that mouth or channel of the river St. Clair which is usually denominated the Old Ship Channel."

Nothing was said designating where, in the old channel, the boundary line should be. The canal now used at the mouth of the river was constructed in the Old Ship Channel by the United States government and is maintained by this government. In 1888 the war department had surveys made of the mouth of St. Clair River, and the report of the engineers is that the line is near the easterly side of the canal, thus placing the canal proper on American soil.

There is just enough doubt about the matter to make the question one of dispute between the governments, yet, should it become necessary to assert the power of control for any purpose whatsoever the United States would not hesitate to insist upon its rights at that point and maintain them at all hazards. So, while discussion at this time may be an agreeable thing for our neighbor, the Empire, to indulge in, the serious phase is understood on this side and Uncle Samuel will keep Old Glory floating at the canal.

THE NAVAL RESERVE

May Be Called Up to Do Quarantine Duty.

Col. J. C. Bonner Has Something to Say on this Subject—Will the Reserve Respond?

It is given out this morning that it is probable that the members of the recently organized naval reserve will be called upon to do quarantine duty in Maumee bay and river.

Col. J. C. Bonner, who is one of the leading members and inaugurated the organization, said to a Bee last evening that he had heard of such a call being issued, but he did not know if any definite steps had been taken.

The duty of the Reserve will be to patrol the bay and river in boats day and night and together with the health officials investigate all incoming boats.

Should cholera break out the members can be pressed into service as hospital nurses.

The boys may expect a call at any moment, and none will be allowed to shirk the duty they promised to perform when they signed the muster roll.

Resignations don't go now, and all deserters can be arrested and treated as would be deserters in the time of war.

The local naval reserve, which was organized chiefly as an ornamental feature of Ohio's bulwark, may after all prove a very useful body for the protection of the city and the country.

WILL BE LATE.

The Ethiopia Had An Accident At Sea.

London, Sept. 14.—News has been received to-day by steamer Circassia, which arrived at Moville from New York that the steamer Ethiopia, of the Anchor line, which left Glasgow for New York on September 1, and which ought to have arrived in New York to-day, will probably arrive next Sunday, September 18. The Circassia met the Ethiopia on Sunday morning, September 11, eight hundred miles west of Tory island. The Ethiopia was then steaming toward New York, having been detained for five days in repairing broken shaft couplings. All were well on board and no assistance was asked for.

HEAVY STORM.

Nyack, N. Y., Sept. 14.—A terrific southeasterly storm did much damage along the lower Hudson last night. Many small boats were sunk and a fine yacht owned by Charles Understiller, of the Nyack Yacht club, was broken to pieces. A number of other large crafts were considerably damaged. There was a heavy wind and rain all night and the tide was unusually high.

UNDER M'KINLEY'S BILL.

Our Import Trade is Falling Off.

What Seven Months of the Year Show.

Figures Everybody Should Read Carefully Before they Vote at the Coming Election.

Washington, Sept. 14.—A decrease in import trade and a standstill in our exports of manufactures are the results of the McKinley tariff law for the first seven months of the present year, as shown by the official figures of Major Brock, the republican chief of the bureau of statistics of the treasury department.

Our import trade has fallen off instead of increasing during the past four years. The country has taken a stride of 10 per cent. in population, if the usual rate of increase has continued, while our imports have steadily decreased in proportion to the population. The increase in imports was much more rapid than that of population for the first seven months of 1890, before the McKinley tariff was enacted. Since then there has been an absolute and relative decline.

The following tables shows the total imports for the first seven months of the past four years and the imports for the same period, exclusive of coffee. Three per cent. is added to the declared value of the imports in 1889 and 1890 to allow for the cost of coverings, which was not included in the value of dutiable articles in those years:

Year.	Total Imports.	Imports less coffee.
1889	$478,049,827	$438,909,246
1890	503,344,989	453,714,371
1891	499,688,057	438,159,540
1892	503,343,126	416,925,440

The imports of tinplate for the first seven months of the present year have been only $10,950,273 against imports in the same months last year of $23,094,633. This might go to bolster up the theory that American tinplate was generally taking the place of the foreign articles if it were not that the imports of last year were abnormal before the high tariff took effect on July 1, and that the imports this year were returning to the normal figures of two or three years back.

One of the most striking facts shown by the treasury statistics is the failure of the new tariff to increase the proportion of raw materials imported or to increase the percentage of manufactured articles exported from the United States to other countries. The proportion of articles partly or wholly manufactured, for use as materials in the manufactures and mechanical arts, has fallen within a year from about 13 per cent. of the total imports to about 10 1-2 per cent. This is the lowest figure for several years, the total imports of this class having been $52,750,643 in 1890, $64,348,159 in 1891 and $51,989,299 in 1892, the seven months ending July 31 being taken in each case.

Hand in hand with this falling off of imports of raw materials has gone the falling off in our exports of manufactures. The country has gained 10 per cent. in population and producing power in four years, but exports of manufactures have remained at a standstill, while exports of other articles have rapidly increased. The aggregate exports of this class for seven months ending July 31 were $84,912,646 in 1889, $85,709,459 in 1890, $98,778,486 in 1891 and $86,548,483 in 1892. Our exports have fallen off since last year in manufactures of cotton and woolen goods and gunpowder, nearly all kinds of iron and steel, harnesses and saddles, musical instruments, glassware, naval stores, manufacture of stone and marble, jewelry, paints and colors, soap, cigars and cigarettes, wine and malt liquors and manufactures of wood, paper and stationery.

TOLEDO MEN DISCHARGED

For Refusing to Resign From the O. R. T.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Commences Its Fight Against the Telegraphers in Toledo—Men Who Resigned Were Retained.

The Pennsylvania railroad has commenced open war against the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, and the first gun was fired in Toledo to-day, when old employes were discharged from the local offices because they refused to resign from the order.

Four men at the depot, who left the order at the company's request, were retained, but those who stuck to their principles are out of a job. One of the men who refused to take water was Chief Mathews, of the Toledo division of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. He had been with the Pennsylvania company for seven years and was one of the most valued men on the road. He had never been reprimanded or never failed in his duty in all that time.

He believed that the order benefited him in the years past, and he is going to stick to it through thick and thin.

It is said that the railroad company is going to discharge O. R. T. men on the whole system and commenced operations in Toledo, where the order was the weakest of any point on the lines, and could be more easily downed. The company argued, say the men, that if they got the upper hand of the telegraphers on this division it would go a long way toward scaring the operators on other parts of the system.

There is liable to be some such like proceedings on the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo railroad, as the telegraphers have presented to the company a new schedule of wages that means an increase. The C., H. V. & T. trainmen have also submitted grievances.

The Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City railroad is the first road in the Middle States to recognize the order. The officials have just agreed upon a new schedule of wages that increases the salaries of operators about $7.50 a month. There is great rejoicing among the Clover Leaf boys.

IN THE OLD BAY STATE.

Massachusetts Republicans in Session.

Chairman Allen Makes a Speech Denouncing Everything Democratic.

Boston, Sept. 14.—The Massachusetts republicans came together to-day and C. H. Allen made the opening address.

Mr. Allen, after thanking the convention for the high honor which they had conferred upon him, proceeded to address the assemblage on the great necessity for all citizens to take an interest in politics and to work for the success of their party however much it may interfere with their personal convenience.

After denouncing the democratic party that proved themselves willing every chance they get, he said: "The issues in the contest upon which we are entering are so squarely joined there is no excuse for personal malignity or vituperation. Republicans have no desire to villify their antagonists while they have no hesitation in pointing out and attacking the erroneous ideas of the democratic party.

That party which has never failed to adopt any heresy that seemed to promise it power.

Upon the question of the currency the republican party stands for an honest dollar and nothing but an honest dollar. While the question of free silver coinage is one that does not find all members of one party on one side and all of the others on the opposite, the vast majority of republicans favor legislation that will uphold the value of all forms of money issued by the government; the vast majority of the democracy were ready to sanction and indorse any project that threatens the stability and equality of our currency.

In speaking of the tariff Mr. Allen said: "The democratic party has with all the solemnity and deliberation of which it is capable, taken its position on the platform of free trade pure and simple." He then quoted from that particular plank adopted by the Chicago convention, saying that on that platform it would not have the votes of the American people.

Republicans believe in a protective tariff that protects; a tariff that secures to American labor good wages, to American capital good interest, and to American people good homes. That is the question reduced to its lowest terms.

After paying a high eulogium to President Harrison and his administration, Mr. Allen concluded by saying that in the coming election republicanism would triumph by an increased majority, and he hoped that the name of Massachusetts would lead all the rest.

A DISMAL FAILURE.

The Tin Plate Blow-Out a Fizzle.

While the New One was Being Celebrated the Old One was Being Run by Welshmen.

Elwood, Ind., Sept. 14.—The republican demonstration at the formal opening of the American tin-plate works here was something of a disappointment.

There were not more than 5,000 people present where 25,000 were expected. Gov. McKinley arrived from Indianapolis, but the inclemency of the weather prevented his speaking at 1 o'clock as arranged for on the program. He was given a rousing reception upon his arrival.

Of the 5,000 present 3,000 came from Indianapolis on excursion rates.

While all this was going on the great tin-plate works at Anderson, Ind., which was sold at sheriff's sale a few days ago, was again placed in operation.

C. C. Clark, of the Arcade file works, has bought the plant and will redeem all claims and liens against the property and enlarge it. About forty men will be employed to dip the black plate. All the pig tin is imported. The workmen are all Welshmen.

BY RAIL TO THE STARS.

Figures of Time As Incomprehensible As Those of Distance.

In a recent lecture on "Fixed Stars" Dr. David Gill wanted to give an illustration of the distance to Centauri. This is what he said as reported in the Boston Globe: "We shall suppose that some wealthy directors for want of outlet for their energy and capital constructed a railway to Centauri. We shall neglect, for the present, the engineering difficulties—a mere detail—and suppose them overcome and the railway open to traffic. We shall go further, and suppose that the directors have found the construction of such a railway to have been peculiarly easy, and that the proprietors of interstellar space had not been exorbitant in their terms for right of way.

"Therefore, with a view to encourage traffic, directors have made the fair exceedingly moderate, viz.: first-class at 2 cents per 100 miles. Desiring to take advantage of these facilities, a gentleman, by way of providing himself with small change for the journey, buys up the national debt of England and a few other countries, and, presenting himself at the office, demands a first-class single to Centauri. For this he tenders in payment the scrip of the national debt of England, which just covers the cost of his ticket; but at this time the national debt from little wars had been run up from $3,500,000,000 to $5,500,000,000. Having taken his seat it occurred to him to ask: 'At what rate do you travel?' 'Sixty miles an hour, sir, including stoppages,' is the answer.

"'Then when shall we reach Centauri?' "In 48,663,000 years, sir!"

A FORTUNATE FALL.

The Hump Removed From a Cripple's Back Unexpectedly by an Accident.

Findlay, O., Sept. 14.—Six or seven years ago Harry Fellabaum, a son of Peter Fellabaum, of West Sandusky street, suffered a dislocation of the shoulder-blades, which resulted in a permanent deformity, and since which time he has been known to his companions as "Humpty" Fellabaum.

While playing on the roof of a building near his home yesterday afternoon young Fellabaum, who is now about 14 years of age, slipped and fell to the ground, alighting on the projecting portion of his back. There was a sharp report like the breaking of a string, and when he got up he found himself not only uninjured but his back straightened. His parents were frightened and feared internal injuries, and he was accordingly taken to a physician for examination, but no injury could be located. The supposition is that the blades had become elevated and muscular adhesions had grown between them, holding them in their distorted position. The force of the fall broke these ligaments and the shoulder-blades immediately assumed their normal position and the boy became straight.

While on the street last evening he was the center of attraction for a large crowd of persons, who were much interested in the singular case.

A. Fouche, D. B. Love, S. S. Richards, W. S. Richards, L. W. Ward, T. Nolf, J. L. Hart, Frank Tuttle, J. P. Moore, B. F. Evans, S. P. Keller, S. W. Buckland, A. E. Culbert, and Hugh Smith.

ANECDOTE OF SIR HUGH ROSE.

A correspondent, writing of the late Lord Straithnairn to the Million, says he was the most indolent, lackadaisical, languid person who ever dawdled along Piccadilly. When he was devastating Central India and winning the splendid victories that immortalized his name he was so lazy that he could not be got to dictate the dispatches recording his own triumphs. Months elapsed before these documents could be extracted from him, and then they were brief and meagre to the last degree. One day, when Sir Hugh Rose, he was entertaining a gallant company to dinner during the crisis of the mutiny. With the utmost sang froid he was delighting those with him with one of his best anecdotes. In the middle of it his orderly entered, and, after saluting, exclaimed, "We have captured 200 rebels, sir." To him the general turned and, with that elegant courtesy of manner on which he prided himself, serenely replied, "Thank you, sergeant." But the man still remained. Again interrupting his chief, he said, "But what are we to do with them, sir?" "Oh," replied Sir Hugh, with a soft smile, "hang them, of course," and he resumed his anecdote. In a little while Sir Hugh was again interrupted in the middle of another story by the sergeant, who came in and said, "Please, sir, we've hung the lot, sir." The general turned, bowed slightly, and in the sweetest manner lisped, "Thanks, sergeant—very many thanks," and then went on with his anecdote as if nothing had happened. This story came to the ears of the queen, and she was so angry that it nearly cost Sir Hugh his peerage. —From the Admiralty and Horse Guards Gazette.

TO OPEN IN HAMILTON

Democrats Will Whoop It Up October First.

Stevenson and Cockran Will be the Cards.

The National Committee Has Decided to Abandon the Woodsdale Meeting.

New York, Sept. 14.—The general understanding in New York is that the republican meeting at Woodsdale Island addressed by Hon. Whitelaw Reid and others was a fizzle.

This view seems to be recognized at republican headquarters. The pretense is assumed that the inaccessibility of the place and lack of railroad facilities were the cause. The democrats have decided to abandon the Woodsdale meeting for the opening of their campaign and to hold it at the city of Hamilton instead on October 1.

Ex-Governor Campbell called on Chairman Bradley B. Smalley, of the committee on speakers, and the change was made.

The committee is in receipt of telegrams from ex-Chairman James E. Neal and a number of Dayton and Hamilton democrats advocating the change from Woodsdale to Hamilton. It can now be positively stated that Hon. Adlai Stevenson, the candidate for vice president, and Hon. W. Bourke Cockran will address the meeting and open the campaign.

AN AUTOCRATIC VALET.

Beaumarchais Couldn't Finish His Game After His "Man" Said it Was Bedtime.

The old-fashioned valet or body-servant of a European gentleman enjoyed extraordinary privileges, says the Youth's Companion. Often he gave himself the airs of the master, while the master found it desirable to obey, more or less meekly. Beaumarchais, a famous French author, had a servant, Antoine by name, who had long been in his service, and against whose tyranny he seldom ventured to rebel. One evening, in his old age, the great man was engaged in a game of chess, when Antoine entered and said, somewhat sharply, but respectfully:

"Monsieur, it is 10 o'clock."

"Very well, Antoine," the master answered; "but let me finish the game."

"If you don't come now, Monsieur, you will be tired to-morrow morning."

"Oh, no; I think not, Antoine."

"And, being tired, you will not want to get up."

"Oh, yes, Antoine; I shall get up."

"No, Monsieur; you will not get up."

"All right, Antoine; I will go in a few moments."

"And if you are not up, Monsieur, at the usual time, you will derange your whole day."

"In a minute, in a minute!"

"And you will have no appetite for breakfast, Monsieur."

"Come now, let me finish this game. Can't you see the clock is fast?"

"But the clock is slow, Monsieur."

"I tell you it is fast!"

"The clock is slow, Monsieur."

"Now, now! The game is almost done, and then——"

"But if the game were almost done you would not have so many pawns left, Monsieur."

"Antoine, I should have been done already if you had let me alone."

"But I shall not let you alone, Monsieur."

"I tell you I shall finish the game! Get out, Antoine!"

"We will get out together, Monsieur."

"Antoine, I'm not a baby!"

"You do not cry, Monsieur. Aside from that, there is not much difference."

The dialogue went on this way for some time. Beaumarchais, shrugging his shoulders, moved a pawn on the chess-board, and then Antoine, bowing very low, and with a great outward air of respect to the company, seized the board and tipped it over, dumping the chessmen in a heap on the floor.

Beaumarchais was on the point of flying into a violent rage, but at the sight of his valet, who stood by wearing an air of sweet humility joined with consciousness of duty nobly done, he burst into a loud fit of laughter and suffered himself to be led home and put to bed.

The very next morning Beaumarchais was found dead in bed. Whether or not the excitement of this mild controversy with his valet hastened his death is not known. Antoine, at any rate, was sure that he had done his duty, and it is quite possible that his care of the old gentleman had already prolonged his life.

SHOT IN THE LEG.

A Duel Reported at the Hague.

Amsterdam, Sept. 14.—A duel is reported at the Hague between two noble attaches of the German and Spanish legations. The Baron Von Gartner-Griebnow, attache of the German legation, quarrelled with the Marquis De Valladareo, secretary of the Spanish legation. They agreed upon a duel with pistols.

The encounter came off last night, both parties having seconds to attend them. The German baron proved the better marksman and the Spanish marquis received a bullet in the leg which was considered sufficient to satisfy wounded honor. The baron was unhurt.

LATE MARKETS.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 392,494 bu., and at five other western points 964,658 bu., total 1,357,152 bu. On the corresponding Wednesday in 1891 the receipts at same points were 1,471,424 bu., including 605,318 bu. of northwest wheat, leaving for the other five points 866,106 bu., compared with 964,658 bu. to-day.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat, 288,741 bu. and flour to an aggregate of 390,000 bu.

English markets are steady for wheat and firm and higher for corn.

Prime's report to-day is a continuance of previous bullish estimates of the corn, oats and spring wheat crops. It is in strong contrast to the report of the government.

Dealers in corn are making a great effort to produce a frost in the corn belt, but our weather report herein does not justify the expectations. The temperature has risen in the states east and south of Minnesota, and we do not believe a frost has yet occurred that will hurt the crop.

The receipts of wheat to-day at five western points are 98,452 bu. in excess of the corresponding Wednesday in 1891, and the northwest receipts are 212,824 bu. less.

Ohio crop report to September 12 says of the southern section: Corn is being cut in all counties as fast as possible. Plowing and seeding going on but rain was needed. Middle section—Wheat seeding well along; corn maturing nicely. Northern section—Early corn being cut; late corn ripening slowly; plowing and seeding proceeding.

Bradstreet's report of the visible supply makes wheat east of the Rockies increased 3,188,000 bu. On the Pacific slope 1,015,000 bu. Total increase 4,203,000 bu. Corn increased 1,180,000 bu. Oats increased 392,000 bu. The increase in northwest interior elevators is excluded, as owners decline to give the data.

The grain literature of the day has been an inch thick with frost, and every fresh dispatch from the great frost center had a little, but quite temporary, effect in firming the markets. It would seem, from the course of the markets, that dealers were indisposed to meet his satanic majesty until they had to, and it is a tolerably good rule to work by. Everything in grain is lower and the close is at about the lowest prices of the day. The frost scare is about the only bull element of the day.

Paris and Berlin markets are reported as closing higher. London and Liverpool unchanged.

In New York October wheat closed at 79 1-2c and December at 82 3-4c, a loss of 3-8c. Corn at 56 3-4-55 3-4c, a loss of 1 1-2c. October at 56c, a loss of 7-8c.

In Chicago October wheat closed at 73 78c, a loss of 5-8c. December at 76 1-4c, a loss of 3-8c. September corn at 48 1-8c, a loss of 5-8c. October at 48 5-8c, a loss of 3-4c. October oats at 34c bid, a loss of 1-2c.

In Toledo there has been about the usual trading in wheat futures, and a little better manifestation of spirit but our prices are lower and close at the lowest point of the day. There were no new incidents of interest, except the enormous increase in visible wheat, as given above. It is without a precedent. We close at a loss on cash and September about 3-8c; October 1-2c; December 1-2c and May 3-4c. On the call October sold at 76 1-2c and December at 78 3-4. On the regular board September sold at 76 1-4c and closed with sellers at 76c; October at 76 1-2c, closing at 76c; December at 78 3-4c and closed at 78 1-4c; May at 84c and closed at 83 1-2c. Cash wheat was more active than yesterday, and the sales foot up 150,000 bu. No. 2 soft sold at 76 1-4c and closed with sellers at 76c; No. 3 soft sold at 68 1-4c, September at 68 1-2c, December at 71 1-4c. At close about 68 was the market. No. 4 soft at 61c to 62c, rejected No. 1 at 64c to 66c, No. 2 at 51c to 53 1-2c, smutty at 53c to 56c.

Corn—No. 2 at 48 3-4c, No. 3 at 48c.

Oats—No. 3 white at 34 1-2c.

Rye—On the call September sold at 59c; after the call No. 2 at 59 1-2c to 60c. No. 3 at 50c, rejected at 43c.

Clover seed was in good demand and advanced 10c. On the call November sold at $5.90. After the call, prime for cash, $6.00 to $5.92 1-2, October at $6.00, November at $5.90 to $6.00, No. 2 at $5.80.

Close in New York.

New York, Sept. 14.—Money loaned at 4@5 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates $4.87 1-2@4.89; actual rates $4.86 1-4@4.86 1-2 for 60 days and $4.87 3-4@4.88 for demand.

Governments steady; currency, 6s, 107 bid; 4s coupon, 115 bid; extended 2s, registered, 100 bid.

Stocks were comparatively dull this morning, only 124,168 shares changing hands. The effects of the settlement of the strike in Reading was seen in the stock market this morning. Everything opened higher. Reading's opening price was 1 per cent. higher. The opening advance in the rest of the list ranged from 1-8 to 3-4 per cent. At 1 p. m. there is very little doing.

Flour quiet but steady; fine $1.65@2.10; superfine $1.70@2.20; city mill extra, $4 25@4.35 for West Indies.

Wheat opened weak and declined 1-4c by noon; No. 2 red winter 79 1-4c cash; 79 3-4c October; 82 3-4c December; 87 5-8c March.

Corn opened weak and declined 3-8c by noon; No. 2 mixed 57 3-4c cash 56 5-8c September; 56 1-2c October.

Oats opened steady and continued so until noon. There was very little doing; No. 2 mixed 38c cash; 38 3-4c October; 39 3-4c November.

Rye quiet but steady; 63@68c for car lots and boat loads.

Barley neglected.

Molasses quiet; New Orleans 30@35c for good to fancy. Sugar—refined dull and unchanged; cut loaf and crushed 5 5-16@5 1-2; granulated 5@5 3-16; cut loaf 5 5-16@5 1-2c; mould A 5 1-8@5 3 16c. Coffee dull; rio No. 7 at 15c. Rice nominal. Pork quiet; old mess $11 00@11.50. Lard quiet; September $7.70; October $7.68.

Not a single player in the Pacific Northwest league has made 100 hits this year. Jake Stenzel, who has the greatest number to his credit, is within one of the century mark.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

AN ANNOYING CITIZEN.

Of all the blooming idiots
Who make my life a curse
I know not one, have heard of none,
That is, or can be, worse
Than the fellow who keeps smiling,
No matter what occurs;
Who never scowls and never howls,
But always fawns and purrs;

Who never gets profane at all,
Nor even breaks a chair;
Who's calm and cool—the beastly fool!
And thinks it wrong to swear;
Who looks reproachful when a man
Revolts against his fate;
Who makes excuse for each abuse
Which should arouse his hate.

There may be men more dangerous,
But none I so distrust
As he, who, meek and smooth and sleek,
Submits because he must.
The man who keeps his temper may
Be something quite divine;
But I must pray his oily way
Lie ever far from mine.

A CORPORAL'S ORDERS.

Twenty army wagons and their drivers—50 cavalrymen from Troop E—a pull of 90 miles across the Indian country. Yes, we shall be attacked by the hostiles. They would not let such an opportunity pass. They can muster four to one, even if we counted in the teamsters. Colonel Blank, at the new post to which we were bound, had written to Captain White, who was to command the train:

"My wife is to come out with you. See that my previous instructions are carried out. She knows what they are."

And we had not marched an hour when Captain White sent for me and said:

"Corporal, you will act as a special guard over the third wagon."

"Very well, sir."

"The Colonel's wife is in that wagon, as you probably know."

"Yes, sir."

"In case the Indians are too strong for us they must not find her alive. That's all!"

I rode back to the third wagon and placed my horse at the nigh fore wheel and lifted my cap to the lady, who had been provided with a comfortable seat by herself. She was a little bit of a woman, not over 25 years old and married to the Colonel only two years before. She looked at me out of her big blue eyes and smiled, but she could not steady her voice as she leaned forward and inquired:

"Corporal, do you—you think we shall be attacked?"

"Quite likely, ma'am, but we may squeeze through."

"And if attacked, and you can't beat the Indians off, you—"

"I have the Captain's orders, ma'am!"

"Yes; very well."

We both understood. I had been specially detailed to kill her if I saw that we were to be wiped out! The thought of it made me dizzy as I rode along. Now and then I glanced up at her to find her face white and her eyes anxiously searching the horizon. I had my orders and was there to obey them, but could I do it? If I was the last living man of that train, could I raise my carbine and become her murderer?

At 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the second day out we saw a dozen mounted Indians on a ridge to the right and closed up the train. To the left were a succession of ridges, and if there was any force of hostiles about they were hidden behind them. The Colonel's wife was one of the first to discover the Indians at the right. She was looking at me as I glanced up.

"We shall be attacked?" she queried.

"Within ten minutes, ma'am."

"Well, you—you—"

"Yes'm, but I hope we shall beat them off."

The redskins on the right now began to ride to and fro and whoop and yell and seek to draw out attention and force the train to halt. Orders had been given the day before to keep moving in case of attack. In closing up the wagons had doubled the line, moving two abreast. The horsemen fell into their places at once—20 on a side, five in front and five in rear. Some of the teamsters had carbines, while all had revolvers. Half a mile beyond where we had seen the first Indian the attack was made, and it was a bold one. As we came opposite a valley running back into the ridges a hundred or more mounted Indians came charging down on us. The valley was just about as wide as the train was long, and therefore the 20 of us on that side had a chance at the reds as they came on in a mob, shooting, shouting, and seemingly determined to ride over us.

"Corporal!"

It was the voice of the Colonel's wife, just as we were preparing to fire.

"Yes'm, I remember," I replied, as I lowered my carbine to look up at her.

We poured the fire of our carbines into the charging mass and checked its rush. The Indians then passed to our front and rear, so as to assail us on all sides. There were fully 300 of them, and had the train halted but for a minute they would have had us wiped out. A part of them had been ordered to fire only at the mules attached to the wagons. As they were kept moving only three or four were struck and none disabled.

"Corporal!"

There was fighting on front and rear and both sides, and the bullets were flying about us in a spiteful way. Five had passed through the cover of the wagon beside me.

It was the Colonel's wife calling to me. I looked up into her white face and she gasped:

"Corporal, are you going to—to—"

"Not yet; we are holding our own!" I replied as I turned to open fire again.

We were gradually getting out of the trap. Further on the ground was open and to our advantage. The Indian always does his best fighting at the start. Here and there we had a man wounded, but there was no confusion—no halting. Whenever they gathered as if to charge we opened fire on the spot and scattered them. Our fire was rapid and well-sustained, and at the end of a quarter of an hour we had them beaten. We were just drawing clear of the ridge when a bullet struck the third wagon teamster in the shoulder, and he fell forward on his saddle. It happened right under the eyes of the Colonel's wife, and she called to me:

"Corporal, obey your orders!"

She had her hands over her face so that she might not see me as I raised my gun. The next few seconds must have been terrible.

"Beg pardon, ma'am, but the reds are drawing off and the victory is ours."

She dropped her hands and stared at me for a minute as if she could not comprehend. Then she fell back in a dead faint, and it was a long half hour before her blue eyes opened to the sunshine again. A week later, at the new post, Col. Blank called me in and asked:

"Corporal, weren't you ordered to shoot Mrs. Blank?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then why didn't you do it?" he sternly demanded.

"I—I was going to but—"

"But what, sir? It was gross disobedience of orders, and you are no longer a Corporal."

But that was the old martinet's way of promoting me to a sergeancy.—New York Sun.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Miss Eleanor Baldwin, who graduated from the Harvard Annex in the class of '92, has been appointed to teach literature and composition in the new English High School in Worcester. Miss Baldwin is the daughter of John S. Baldwin, of the Worcester Spy.

The Marchez Palli has been married to the Countess Waldeck, of Vienna, in the presence of an aristocratic assemblage, including ex-King Francis of the Two Sicilies and numerous archdukes. The parents of the bride both died of influenza in November last within a day of each other.

Prof. Moses Coit Tyler recently gave a lecture course on the literature bearing on the American revolution, discussing every form of literary work at that time. Prof. Tyler called the pamphlet "the ancestor of the American newspaper, which, like all good ancestors, died, leaving the work to the more robust youngster."

Ex-King Milan and his youthful son, King Alexander of Servia, are much on evidence at their villa at Ems, which rejoices in the name of Petit Elysee. Every fine day they dine in a small kiosk in their garden, and are happy together over their bottle of champagne. They are not often seen among the public, but when they do take their walks abroad they are always together.

One of the seven or eight Americans who have been elected to the new British parliament is F. A. Channing, a son of the Rev. W. H. Channing and a nephew of the famous Unitarian preacher William Ellery Channing. A sister of the young member-elect became the wife of Sir Edwin Arnold. Mr. Channing took high honors at Cambridge University. Most of his life has been spent in England.

The position of color-director of the woman's building at the world's fair has been conferred by Mrs. Potter Palmer upon Mrs. Candace Wheeler, the president of the Society of Association Artists. This society, under the direction of Mrs. Wheeler and her daughter, Mrs. Dora Wheeler Keith, has been authorized by the New York state board of women managers to decorate the library in the woman's building. Only books by women authors will be exhibited in this room, which will be fifty feet long by thirty-five wide. At the close of the exposition the books will be presented to the New York state library.

It is announced that in the coming autumn Miss Ellen Terry will publish a book entitled Stray Memories. This is her first published literary work.

Miss Mary E. Wilkins, the fair New Englander who has won lasting fame by her marvellous pen pictures of village life, is a frail bit of a girl scarce five feet in height. She is modest and unassuming to a degree, and her manuscripts, written in the uncertain hand of a school girl, are a surprise to the editor who, handling them for the first time, expects to find in her chirography something of the confident touch of one conscious of her power.

LOST LANDS.

The Recent Submersion of Sangir and of Expedition Island.

A few days ago mention was made of the disappearance in an earthquake of the principal island of the Sangir group, in longitude 125 degrees, midway between the islands of Mindanao an Celebes. News now comes that a Dutch skipper, sailing along the northwest coast of Australia, reports the disappearance of Expedition island, at the mouth of Collier bay, in western Australia. The island is almost in the same longitude as Sangir island and nearly 20 degrees south. As the sea in which it lies is unfrequented by shipping it is quite possible that its subsidence, if it occurred, was simultaneous with the submersion of Sangir below the waves. The Dutch skipper reports that he sailed over the spot where the island had been and found eight fathoms of water, whereas all around the place the depth was normal for the Sea of Timor, say, seventy to 100 fathoms. The island was thirteen miles long by one mile wide. It was 40 miles from the coast of Australia.

The whole crust of the globe is probably in motion, changing its relative level as it gradually adjusts itself to the contractions of the interior, on which it rests, says the San Francisco Call. In the north the circum-polar regions are rising. If we had records to guide us we should probably find that Grant Land, Grinnell Land, and Franz Josef's Land are several inches higher than they were when they were first discovered. And simultaneously the coast of Greenland, in the neighborhood of Disco, is sinking, so that the stakes which were driven into the beach to moor boats to are now under water. It is easy to understand that, without any volcanic agency, the earth, resting as it does on a foundation which must be incandescent, must rise and fall as the action of fire expands and contracts its subterranean support.

This process has gone on throughout all time. In the Arabian sea, not far from the mouth of the Indus, the voyagers in the Bombay steamships can see, when the water is clear, the peaks and minarets of a drowned city at the bottom of the ocean.

The steamship passes over them as they lie in their watery grave. At some far distant period that city lived and flourished, probably on the ocean border, and may have been a place of trade and prosperity. The hungry waves gradually rose and rose, capturing a street here and a square there, until the people were driven out and the city was ingulfed. It was an illustration on a great scale of the action of the agency which terminated the terrestrial life of Expedition island.

QUEER NAMES INDEED.

The Savannah Press tells of a physician of that city who was recently called to prescribe for an old negro woman. After ascertaining her symptoms and assuring her that her fears of instant death were baseless, he turned his attention to her children—two rollicking pickaninnies, who were having a tussel on the floor.

"What's the names of your boys?" he asked the woman.

"That one, sah, is Lake Genevah," said the woman, pointing to her younger child; "and that one, sah, am Lake Superiah."

"Where did you get such names?" asked the doctor in amazement.

"From a book, sah," answered the woman, and she forgot her pains in pardonable pride at the aristocratic sounding names she had conferred upon her progeny.—Atlanta Constitution.

"SLAPPING A KING."

Talleyrand one day upon entering the private study where father and son were together, found the boy upon the father's knee, while Napoleon was gently slapping him.

"Do you know what I am doing?" asked Napoleon.

"No, sire," said the diplomatist, who was far too wise to guess the royal puzzles.

"I am slapping a king!" was the answer. And this trifle and harmless pleasantry has been cited by a serious writer as a proof of Napoleon's "cruelty" to his child.—From St. Nicholas.

Pitcher Ferson, who was with Milwaukee until the Western League disband d and then joined the Baltimore, has been released by Providence, which club he signed with when Baltimore let him go.

The side-wheel steamer Goliah was the first steamer that came to the Pacific coast, her trip having been made in 1849, and later in 1871, she came for the first time to Puget Sound. She is now owned by the Puget Mill company, and is still in use as a towboat. She still has her original machinery, which is in excellent condition.

HARD MONTH FOR BABIES!

Fatalities as Many Now as in Mid Summer.

After Effects of Heat and the Result of the Changing Weather.

Mothers Who Now Find It Necessary to Wean Their Infants.

September is as hard a month as August for infants. In Chicago last year 1,205 babies died in August and 1,002 in September.

The ill effects of the intense August heat are far reaching. Little ones who have had a touch of the summer disease are often wasted from lack of nourishment, and the impairment of the nutritive process at a very important time in the development, not infrequently produces scrofula and rachitis., and other diseases.

No summer for years has seen so many deaths of little children in this state and there was never more sickness among children in Toledo.

As cool weather comes on, children require the most wholesome, nourishing, and palatable diet possible, and lactated food should be in the hands of every mother. Sudden changes of the atmosphere are dangerous above all things to infants whose digestive apparatus is out of order, and the use of lactated food, the physicians say, is especially to be commended because of its corrective influence in cases of irritability of the stomach.

Then, too, the mother who has toiled through the summer, trying hard to nurse her child, but growing weak and losing her own appetite until she is nearly worn out, and finds now that she must wean her infant, can do it as thousands of mothers have done before upon lactated food.

The infant will like it and will grow strong and happy upon it. Its composition is simply this: Its basis is sugar of milk, with it is combined the digestive elements of wheat, barley, and oats, producing a pure food which meets every requirement of the growing child.

There is no secret about it; it is the food physicians use in their own families and most generally prescribe.

In all that goes to strengthen and build up the system weakened by disease and pain, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the superior medicine. It neutralizes the poisons left in the system after diphtheria and scarlet fever, and restores the debilitated patient to perfect health and vigor.

THE NEWS IN FINDLAY.

Judge Johnston will Straighten It Out—Accidents and Deaths.

Findlay, Sept. 14.—(Special)—The gallant old Forty-ninth O. V. V. I. hels its annual reunion in this city to-day. It was organized at Camp Noble, at Tiffin, August 15, 1861, and mustered out at Victoria, Texas, November 30, 1865. This is Gen. W. H. Gibson's old regiment and he was here meeting and entertaining the boys in his usual happy manner. The Forty-ninth took part in 17 different battles—some of them being the hottest of the war. There was a large attendance and a general good time.

The funeral of John P. Murray, the unfortunate victim of last Friday's fire in the brick yard of Childs & Murray, occurred this afternoon, conducted by the Masonic fraternity.

Knapp has filed an application for a receiver to conduct the business. The case will be heard before Judge Jonhnston at Kenton on Friday. The people of the city are awaiting the result of this strange business proceeding.

George Hoppas, a laborer at the West Park Line kilns had a serious fall yesterday and broke his right leg just above the ankle.

REFORMED DRUNKARDS.

They Get Together as Horrible Examples.

Continuation of the Meeting of the Graduates at Dwight, Ill.

Dwight, Ills., Sept. 14.—The convention of Bi-Chloride of Gold clubs resumed its session this morning with an attendance even larger than that of yesterday.

The new opera house in which the gathering is being held, and which is taxed to its utmost to accommodate the delegates and visitors, is built on the club grounds and is one if the many evidences of the prosperity which the Keeley institute has brought to the little town of Dwight.

A rumor has been industriously circulated for some time to the effect that Dr. Keeley would announce to the convention his intention of publishing the formula of his remedy, and that within a few days the magic prescription would be at the command of every physician in the land who chose to use it. The story has been discredited from the first by those who are in a position to speak authoritatively of Dr. Keeley's intentions, and as the doctor himself has no intimation that he intends to pursue such a course it is probable that he intends to guard his secret as carefully as ever.

The convention will hold another session to-morrow, which will wind up the second annual gathering of the organization.

OF INTEREST TO ATHLETES.

James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, Princeton, N. J., says: 'I have found it imperative to have sure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering my profession, I discovered such a remedy in Allcock's Porous Plasters. I tried other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. Allcock's Porous Plasters give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back put two plasters on the small of the back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In "sprint" and "distance" races and jumping, the muscles or tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."

TO REDUCE WAGES.

London, Sept. 14.—At a meeting of the Council of Master Spinners' Federation, of Lancashire, the returns show that over eighty per cent. of the spinners included in the federation were in favor of reducing wages five per cent., which is more than a sufficient number to pledge the entire federation to that course. The council will confer with the operatives before enforcing a reduction.

EDWIN ARNOLD ATTACKED

A Missionary Declares His Conduct Scandalous.

He would Have been Welcome at the Licentious Courts of the Middle Ages.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—The Rev. John Bartlett, a young missionary sent to Japan by the American board of missions, created a stir at the meeting of Congregational ministers by making a savage attack on the character of Sir Edwin Arnold, the English poet and editor. Mr. Bartlett has labored among the Japanese long enough to learn their language. He spoke before the ministers' meeting yesterday with considerable fervor, complaining bitterly of the shabby treatment missionaries received in Japan, not only by the natives, but American and English residents. The newspapers every morning contained savage attacks on the missionaries, who were everywhere regarded with contempt. The English and American merchants stirred up the feeling against the missionaries as much as any class, and there was a general feeling of antagonism against missionaries.

"Is the general impiety the result of the heathen condition of the country?" asked a minister.

"It is the result of the actions of many foreigners who have lived there and who bring Christian religion into contempt by the way they conduct themselves. I speak particularly of Sir Edwin Arnold. His conduct in Japan, if enlarged upon, would not be tolerated in America. It might be at the gay European courts and he would have been particularly welcome at the licentious court of Louis XIV. These are facts and not based on mere rumor. I dislike to thus speak of Sir Edwin Arnold, but it is true nevertheless."

This suggestive speech was received with marks of approval by the ministers present. Mr. Bartlett continued his talk, pointing out still further that all classes from ship captains to consul's clerks looked with contempt and pity upon missionaries.

The Rev. Mr. Wright of Georgia addressed the meeting on the race problem in the south. He regarded it as serious, and nothing but the wisest counsels could bring peace.

THE GREAT WABASH.

Change in the Directory of the Road.

Joy, Howe and Hays Go Out to Make Room for the English Holders.

St. Louis, Sept. 13.—The annual meeting of stockholders of the Wabash railroad company was held in the general offices of the company in the Commercial building. There were present Messrs. George J. Gould, Edgar L. Weller, Harry K. McHarg, S. C. Reynolds, President O. D. Ashley, Vice President Howe, General Manager C. M. Hays and Director Joy. The meeting was in session until 11:30. Then the announcement was made that the following directors had been elected: Francis Pavy, C. C. MacRae, Edgar L. Weller, Harry K. McHarg, T. H. Hubbard, C. J. Lawrence, George J. Gould, Russell Sage, John L. Terry, S. C. Reynolds, P. B. Wyckoff, Jay Gould, O. D. Ashley.

Of the above directors the new members are Messrs. Jay Gould, C. C. MacRae and Francis Pavy, the two latter from London, Eng., and representing the foreign stockholders of the Wabash railroad in accordance with a recommendation made a year ago by Mr. C. C. MacRae, who is managing director of the Railway Shareholders' Trust company, of London, and who made an examination of the Wabash interests at that time.

The retiring members are Messrs. Joy, Howe and Hays, who, it is stated, declined re-election on hearing that the English stockholders desired a larger representation on the board. This action, it is also stated, will have no effect in bringing about a change in the present officers of the board, as it is understood that Messrs. Howe and Hays will continue in their present positions as vice president and general manager. The by-laws were altered so that it is not necessary to be a director in order to hold the office of vice president.

President Ashley still remains a member of the board, but the election of Jay Gould has given rise to the report that the latter will be made president at the meeting to be held in New York two weeks hence. George Gould also held a large number of proxies which were voted in the interest of his father's election to the board.

The following reports of earnings and operating expenses for the year ending June 30, 1892, was read:

Gross earnings, $14,389,331.13; operating expenses, $10,832,526.95. Net earnings, $3,556,804.13. Miscellaneous receipts, $190,453.48. Total, $3,747,257.66. After payment of interest on bond and mortgages the report shows a surplus of $91,475.87.

THE SPITE OF A VIXEN

Gratifying Her Malice on An Innocent Woman.

Under Bond a Year Although Not Guilty.

How Difficult to Get Out of the Meshes of the Law When Once Entangled.

New York, Sept. 14.—A woman perfectly innocent of crime was formally discharged from custody in the court of general sessions, after being held under bonds for a year and a half, charged with grand larceny. Assistant District Attorney Gunning S. Bedford, in moving for her discharge, said: "This is a remarkable instance of the most vindictive spite on the part of a vixen who caused the arrest of this innocent woman to gratify her private malice. Your honor, who has been acquainted with all these facts, will join with me in setting this woman free and brushing away the cloud that has hung over her for more than a year."

Judge Cowing signed the discharge.

The case is a most curious one and shows how difficult it is for anyone who once gets into the meshes of the law to get out again.

The story starts way back on June 4, 1889. On that day Mrs. Catharine Northrop was shopping in the store of Koch & Co., on Sixth avenue. She laid her pocketbook, containing $72, on the counter while she moved a short distance away to examine some goods. When she returned she saw that the pocketbook had disappeared.

Miss Belle Stables, a saleswoman in the store, had seen a woman pick up the pocketbook and go up stairs. She informed Mr. Rosenberg, a member of the firm, who, with Eugenie Madden, an employe, found a woman locked in one of the closets in the toilet room.

The purse was not on her, but was subsequently discovered in an airshaft with two keys and some loose change in it. Fifty dollars in bills was found on the roof of Simpson, Crawford & Simpson, next door, where the money had evidently been thrown by the thief. Twenty-two dollars was found on the person of the woman who had been seen to take the pocketbook.

She surrendered this on condition that she would not be prosecuted. Notwithstanding this promise the woman was arrested and the next morning in Jefferson Market police court she gave her name as Mary Jones, aged 25, residence Brooklyn. She was held in $500 bail.

She was subsequently indicted, and when her case was called in general session she failed to appear and her bail was forfeited. Since then the original Mary Jones has been missing. The matter was published quite extensively in the newspapers at the time and the portrait of the arrested woman appeared in some of them.

More than a year ago Mrs. Ella Payne of No. 183 Prince street, Brooklyn, called on Inspector Byrnes and told him that she could find Mary Jones. She said that the woman has estranged her husband from her and had been living with him for two years in another part of Brooklyn. Detective Sergeant Phil Reilly was put on the case, and after considerable trouble arrested a woman at a flat on Lexington avenue, Brooklyn, where she was living with Edward Payne. The woman denied that she knew anything about the robbery, but Mrs. Payne was positive that she was the woman wanted. Mrs. Northrop, the complaining witness, also thought that she identified her as a woman she had seen in the store when she was robbed. The prisoner was detained at police headquarters for one night and taken to the district attorney's office, where she was put under $500 bail, which she promptly furnished. She refused to give any name but Mary Jones, saying that as she had been arrested under that name she would remain Mary Jones. Detective Reilly was not satisfied with the way things were going and made another attempt to straighten them out. He sent for Lawyer McLaughlin, who was counsel for the original Mary Jones, and asked him if he could identify the woman.

"This is not my client," Mr. McLaughlin said emphatically when taken before the woman.

Officer Kemp, who made the original arrest, was sent for. He declared that the woman in custody was not the one he had arrested. But the vindictive Mrs. Payne was clamoring for the prosecution of the woman she had had arrested and complaining that she should not be allowed to be out on bail. Last week she induced the woman's bondsmen to surrender her. This brought Civil Justice Lynn into the case as the woman's lawyer, and he worked energetically for her release. The prisoner, who is a tall brunette of pleasant manners and address, was neatly dressed when brought into court. She is a professional nurse and said that she could if the case came to trial, give an exact account of where she was at the time the robbery occurred. She did not, however, wish to bring any of her friends into the trouble and had remained quiet.

The irrepressible Mrs. Payne was in court, but went away much disgusted when Judge Cowing discharged the woman.

Advice to Mothers of Fretful Babies

828 Huron St., Toledo, O., July 17, '92.

Hand Medicine Co., Gentlemen:

My baby is now three months old and has had colic all her life. We gave her all kinds of remedies without any beneficial effect. I was almost discouraged in trying anything else when a friend told me of your Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. I gave her 12 drops which acted like a charm. Now as soon as I discover she has wind colic I give her one or two doses which relieves her entirely. I want to advise all mothers who have fretful babies to use Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. I will hereafter always keep it in the house.

SHORT WORK OF HIM.

A Negro Brute Lynched in Kansas.

He Had Terribly Beaten a Young Lady in an Attempt to Assault Her.

Larned, Kas., Sept. 14.—Yesterday morning a negro named James Thompson made a brutal attempt to outrage Miss Mabel Welch at her boarding house. The brute entered her room and with a knife in his mouth fought for two hours to accomplish his purpose, but failed. The skin was peeled off her arms, neck and face and her hands were badly cut by grasping the blade of the knife. Thompson was arrested yesterday evening in the swamps several miles west of the city. He was taken from the jail by a mob of 200 men last night and hanged to a telegraph pole one mile north of this city.

NEW YORK APPORTIONMENT.

The Case Now Ready for the Court of Appeals.

Buffalo, Sept. 14.—The decision in the Monroe county apportionment cases, which was argued at the extraordinary session of the general term held in this city August 16, has been handed down. The opinion of Judge Rumsey of the supreme court, which declared the apportionment unconstitutional, was affirmed. Justice Macomber wrote a lengthy dissenting opinion. Justice Lewis and Justice Dwight each wrote opinions affirming the opinion of Judge Rumsey.

The reapportionment bill was passed at an extra session of the legislature, called by the governor. Its intention was to divide the state into different senatorial and assembly districts, based on the new census.

This case is now ready for the court of appeals. It is thought that Chief Judge Earl will convene an extraordinary term to deal with the matter. The validity of the approaching state elections hang entirely upon the decision of the court of appeals.

S.S.S. CURES MALARIAL POISON

...should be assisted to throw off impurities of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so promptly, or so safely as Swift's Specific.

LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.

For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try S.S.S. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever.

Heiskell's Ointment

Is a positive cure for all forms of

SKIN DISEASE.

We base this assertion on our observation of over thirty years, in which time a very large number and variety of Skin Diseases have been reported to us as cured, by the simple use of Heiskell's Ointment, without the aid of internal remedies. Many of these were cases of long duration, that had resisted the treatment of the most eminent medical talent in this and other countries. Heiskell's Ointment seems never to have failed in a single instance.

JONES IN CHINATOWN.

He Gets Up a Stampede of Chinese and His Lady Love Gets no Fan.

There was a commotion in Chinatown late yesterday afternoon, says the San Francisco Chronicle. As usual, pistol shots announced the trouble, and there was a lively scampering of excited Chinese up and down Dupont street. The unusual feature of the occurrence was the fact that a white man was responsible for the stampede of hatchetmen and highbinders, and that straight American whisky, not Chinese "conk," or a Mongolian feud, inspired the fusillade.

The trouble occurred in the fancy goods store at 617 1-2 Dupont street. A well-dressed young man walked into the store and asked to see some fans. He wanted a present for a young lady. The Chinese proprietor laid out a fan for 50 cents. It would not do, and then a piece of sandalwood finery was exhibited. The Chinese was given to understand that the young lady was particularly beautiful and adorable, and that he must produce something particularly fine if her critical taste were to be pleased. The eyes of the Chinese sparkled with satisfaction and pride as he laid out an ivory fan, a handsome thing, delicately carved, which he offered to sell to the young woman's admirer for $15. He looked upon it with scorn, and inquired whether this queen of all that is beautiful was to be offended with presents fit only for fishwomen. The merchant threw up both arms in despair and cried to his various partners to look at the man. He had exhibited his finest ware, it had been scorned, and the customer wanted something better.

When the Chinese tried to explain his position the young man became angry, flashed a revolver and began a war dance. Before the Chinese could duck behind the counter or get out of the room he had fired two shots. One grazed the ear of a Chinese and lodged in the wall. Another shattered a large mirror and glanced through the front window. Then the murderous customer fled, running out into Dupont street, down to Washington and almost to Kearney, with several hundred Chinese fleeing before him and his revolver. He was headed off by Policemen Gibson and Warnick and taken to the city prison, where he was booked for attempted murder. The man gave the name of Charles M. Jones, and the same name was found on a pawn ticket in his possession and on a receipt for goods recently sent here by express from New York. He had a pocket full of gold coin. Though the prisoner is neatly and stylishly attired, he has the appearance of having been on a protracted spree.

When Gen. Robert P. Dechert was bustling about getting the Philadelphia troops off to Homestead in response to Gov. Pattison's call, he was approached at the railway station by a little girl who inquired how she could have her watch conveyed to her brother, one of the militiamen. "His is in pawn," she lisped, handing the General a tiny watch, "and I want him to have mine. Please see that he gets this, soldier." Then she disappeared in the crowd. When the commander reached camp he examined the watch, and a name inside affording a clew he placed it safely in the hands of the brother with an admonition regarding the embarrassing consequences of pledging such articles.

As illustrating the bitterness of the recent campaign in Great Britain, the Boston Transcript publishes a letter written by an English liberal to a friend in Boston. "We have had," he says, "a tremendous hard fight—many say the greatest since 1832. All the aristocracy, landlords, publicans, factors and, above all, the church was against us, This latter grew so keen on the subject that from over 50 pulpits for several Sundays past we (the liberal party) have been specially commended to the Lord for punishment, and sermons against our ideas preached. Some of the ministers have even gone so far as to say that anyone who voted for —— was not fit to receive the sacrament. Think of that in this nineteenth century, and it will show you how deep and bitter the fight has been. All that I can say is that there are 6,535 excommunicated people in this constituency alone."

The Pacific-Northwest league, which has just disbanded, numbered among its players some who were not unfamiliar to major league crowds, while others were recognized as in class A of minor league tossers. Among others who may be mentioned are Billy Earle, Gil Hatfield, Billy Hassamer, Mark Polhemus, Charlie Marr, Harry Raymond, Joe Werrick, Paul Borchers, Ollie Beard, Billy George, Billy White, "Kid" Baldwin and Edward Cartwright.

Markey Baldwin will take his turn in the box down east and he will have to work hard else he is apt to hear from his ready advocate, Manager Buckenberger, but for whom Markey would be untrched at present. There is no better pitcher in the country than Mark Baldwin. It is a notorious fact that the club will not work as hard behind Baldwin as with other pitchers working, and Mark is probably to blame for this, as he has the reputation of quitting when anything happens to disconcert his plans.

Manager Frank Selee is still confident that Boston will win the pennant. "The Clevelands," he said recently, "have a tremendous lead, but I am confident we will catch them before the close of the campaign. They have a great lot of pitchers, and in point of fielding the Spiders can more than hold their own with any club in the league, but I don't think they have the staying qualities to last to the finish."

What has become of Captain Kelly and his base running abilities? A few seasons ago the King was considered one of the greatest base stealers in the League, but by his record so far this season he ranks among the lowest. He stole only two bases in twenty-two games, which is ineed a mighty poor showing for a paleyr like Kelly.

DREADFUL PSORIASIS.

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I can not express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight.

Rockwell City, Iowa.

The queen will present a unique wedding present to Princess Marie, daughter of the Duke of Edinburgh, on the occasion of her marriage in October to Prince Ferdinand, the heir apparent to the throne of Roumania. The gift is a pleasure barge fashioned in the form of a swan. The neck and head form the prow, which is 18 feet in height. The body forms the cabin and the feet are employed in propelling the beautiful craft.

Prof. Arthur Burgoyne, whose satirical hits in rhyme, in the "All Sorts" column of the Leader, have introduced a new era in newspaper poetry, has extended his field by publishing the words and music of a campaign song entitled "Indiana Ben." It is rather hazardous for a poet whose reputation has been made by unsparingly hitting heads where he sees them to try the laudatory muse; but Prof. Burgoyne is more than ordinarily successful in his attempt. "Indiana Ben" the campaign.
